WAIT HITLER MESSAGE

France Believes Neighbor
Nation Intends to Re-arm Quietly

PARIS, May 15.—(AP)—A three-power united front of the United States, Great Britain and France virtually has been achieved to face Germany at the Geneva disarmament conference Thursday, it was learned Monday.

French concern about Chancellor Hitler's message to the reichstag is unabated, but a government spokesman said that France "does not expect Hitler to declare openly that the treaty of Versailles is another scrap of paper."

Instead, the French believe Germany intends to "rearm quietly," announcing simply that France's failure to disarm has violated the treaty and that therefore Germany is a free agent.

This quiet rearming, a French spokesman said, already has commenced in German factories which are building tanks, big guns and military airplanes.

Norman H. Davis, American ambassador-at-large, asked Foreign Minister Joseph Paul-Boncour at a fifteen-minute talk Monday to take a midstand toward Chancellor Hitler's expected disarmament pronouncement before the reichstag on Wednesday, it was authoritatively said, in order that the United States and Britain might be able to follow him.

"With all three powers through diplomatic channels were understood to be urging the German chancellor to be moderate in his reichstag speech. They were trying to keep the situation from boiling over, said an American spokesman, "so that a skillful bridge may be constructed from the island of Elba, where Hitler has placed himself, back to the mainland."

It was insisted that Mr. Davis and M. Paul-Boncour had no discussion

12 PEOPLE KILLED IN DIXIE MISHAPS

Georgia Leads List In Accidental Fatalities
With Four

ATLANTA, Ga., May 15.—(AP)—Twelve persons were killed in weekend accidents over the south, five by automobiles, five by drowning, one by a train and one by a motorcycle. Georgia reported four of the accidental fatalities, Tennessee, North Carolina and Mississippi two each and Florida and Kentucky one each.

The Rev. Elsie Squires, young Baptist minister, was killed in an automobile wreck at Moultrie, Ga. Julius Trigg, University of Georgia sophomore, was drowned in a lake at Athens, Ga. Eugene Hella fell into the Chattahoochee river and drowned at Gainesville, Ga., and William Shepherd was killed by a train at Milledgeville, Ga.

An automobile collision at Chattanooga, Tenn., cost the life of Willie Keeler of Newport, Tenn., and Mrs. Lillie George was killed by an automobile at Nashville, Tenn. Arthur Mellen, Mississippi State University senior, was killed in an automobile-motorcycle collision at State College, Miss. James Miller was drowned when his boat overturned in the Luxapalla river in the same state.

An automobile accident in Kentucky cost the life of Howard Pennington, Calumet farms fockey. Miss Farris Norman of Orlando, Fla., was drowned while on a swimming party in the Gulf of Mexico at St. Petersburg, Fla.

Chinese Are Determined To Die Defending Peiping

By Herbert R. Ekins
(Copyright, 1933, by the United Press)
BEHIND THE CHINESE LINES, YENLO, North China, May 15.—A poorly equipped, dedicated Chinese regiment held their line against a deadly Japanese attack Monday, grimly determined to show the world that Chinese soldiers could fight and die. Between here and Peiping, 50 miles to the southward, Chinese were making frantic preparations to check the Japanese advance. In the front line, the Nanking Regulars were well entrenched behind barbed wire. They were hardened troops, oblivious to bombing airplanes and heavy artillery. Secondary trenches had been dug behind. Machine gun nests dotted the countryside. In the streets

Missing Man's Body Found in Ouachita

Jes' Ramblin' ABOUT THE TOWN By H. H. B.

Those who cuss when they lose a nickel or more in the slot machines that dot the city, may be interested in this. A newspaper man, sitting in a downtown cafe, noticed a nondescript man playing one of the machines. Nickel after nickel he dropped into the slot. Every two or three nickels would bring a shower of five-cent pieces. While the wheels in the machine were rolling, the man would bang on the back of the machine for all he was worth. Shortly one of the owners of the cafe came in and began to watch this successful player. The man finally remarked to the waiter behind the counter, "Well, boy, you've got the last nickel out of my dollar. Give me a package of cigarettes!" The newspaper man and the cafe owners discussed the matter and the latter decided to check up on the machine. He said he found just $6 in nickels missing and that a further check over the city revealed that the same gentleman had reaped a harvest of more than $100. And nobody has been able to figure out how the man went about beating the machines, as they were supposed to be "foolproof."

So extensive was the devastation caused by the recent tornadoes in north Louisiana, that smaller acts of destruction passed almost unnoticed. The old city high school was suffering to the extent of considerable damage to the slate roof and gables. Henry Gibbs has been busy making repairs. He's the man with the very red hammer, depending from his left hand trousers pocket. The flag pole on the lawn of St. Francis sanitarium was bent over so as to form an almost perfect 90 degree angle by force of cyclonic winds. This also has been straightened out. . . . And back to the subject of the recent tornado, Mike Stevenson was reported to have been in a play when his car on Washington street was wrecked by a falling tree. Friend wife says she had supposed long hours of the office were detaining him.

A certain well known young woman recently made a stage appearance with the song, "In Old Shanty Town." So well did she execute the job that her friends are now dubbing her "SHANTY." . . . "Come out of the Kitchen" is a popular phrase up at Neville high school. The senior class dramatics are to show how to get out of this place on the night of May 19, when the best talent of the 1933 class will appear in the various "earthen roles."

Bob McCoy doesn't hide in his cellar but he has discovered a pet place where cool breezes blow. It's within the pent house atop the Capitol theater where a convenient chair has been placed. . . . Jack Battaglia stove a hole in his shoe to accommodate an unruly corn. Now the corn is well but the aperture remains. Says he has to keep on limping to make it all realistic or buy a new pair of enameled shoes for his pedal extremities. . . . "To the leading gentlemen's furnishing store in Monroe, La." was the address on an envelope that brought a letter from Patterson, La. A certain round gentleman on DeSard street is even more round than ever since the letter was delivered to HIM.

Word from New Orleans is to the effect that Ed Greenblatt, well known former Senator theater manager in Monroe, is now the prosperous owner of the Strand theater in the Crescent City. . . . W. R. Hammond knows well how to teach history and economics at Ouachita junior college but inquisitive students have found that he has other talents. They caught him propelling, with considerable success, a lawnmower over a greensward on the north side the other night, just as the shadows were falling.

of Pelping the Garrison forces erected sandbag barricades. I moved through this network of defense from Pelping to the front, and nowhere was there any indication the Chinese were demoralized or ready to flee. Japanese bombing planes dropped overhead, dropping dozens of bombs into villages. Great masses of wreckage were catapulted through the air, but there were few casualties. Practically all of the civilian population had fled toward the south, or teams hauling wagons filled with household furniture jammed the rough, muddy roads. The Japanese moved forward slowly, gaining each mile only after heavy

ERNEST TORRENCE OF SCREEN FAME DIES IN GOTHAM

Actor Fails to Rally Following Operation On Gall Bladder

CAREER WAS COLORFUL

Familiar Film Figure Was Noted As Pianist and Vocalist

NEW YORK, May 15.—(AP)—Ernest Torrence, veteran screen actor, died Monday at the age of 54.

The noted portrayer of character roles succumbed at dawn at Lenox Hill hospital. He failed to rally after a recent operation for gall bladder trouble and for hours physicians had known that death was inevitable.

Weeping relatives were at the bedside as death came to the tall man who had gone from a career of music theater to win additional fame in the films.

His wife, the former Ise Reamer, was with him at the end, as were his son, Ernest, Jr., two brothers and other kinsfolk.

Torrence, who broke into the films in "Tollable David," went on to success in "The Covered Wagon," "Rugles of Red Gap" and a host of more recent pictures.

Audiences all over the world, familiar with his six feet, four inches and 220 pounds of screen ability, were not generally aware that he once sang grand opera, became famous as a concert pianist before he went on the stage, and was a musical comedy star prior to his Hollywood debut.

He was born in Edinburgh, Scotland, the son of non-professionals

TRIAL OF CANNON NOW SEEMS SURE

Indictment of Churchman
On Election Charge Is Held Valid

WASHINGTON, May 15.—(AP)—Trial of Bishop James Cannon, Jr., on charges of violation of the corrupt practices act in 1928 seemed certain Monday with a ruling by the District of Columbia circuit court of appeals that the indictment against the churchman was valid.

The court of appeals also upheld the indictment against Miss Ada Burroughs, Bishop Cannon's former secretary.

The churchman was indicted by a grand jury but the District of Columbia supreme court sustained a demurrer. The ruling Monday reversed that decision.

The case had previously gone to the supreme court on the claim that the court of appeals lacked jurisdiction to hear the government's appeal from the district supreme court's decision quashing the indictment. The highest court, however, upheld the jurisdiction of the court of appeals.

The charges against the churchman grew out of his activities against Al-

CHICAGO GUNMAN IS FOUND SLAIN IN PARKED AUTO

Body Tied, Wrapped In Burlap Bag and Covered With Blanket

CHICAGO, May 15.—(AP)—"Public Enemy" Rocco Belcastro, 25, recorded by police as a burglar, liquor dealer, terrorist, and member of the "circus gang," was found shot to death Monday in an automobile.

The body had been bound securely with ropes and electric cord, partly wrapped in a burlap bag, and covered with a blanket. In a shoulder holster he carried a loaded pistol with six bullets on the handle.

Police said he was paraded Sunday in a detective bureau "showup" with other robbery suspects but was not identified. They said he left the bureau, apparently nervous, with several other youths.

Blood stains on the running board of the automobile, a new machine without license plates, led police to believe Belcastro had been killed elsewhere and his body placed in the

'HAPPY KITCHEN' OPENS TUESDAY

Mrs. Stafford to Conduct
Cooking School Here at Paramount

Tomorrow—Tuesday—afternoon at 2 o'clock, the doors of the Paramount theater will be thrown open to the housewives of Ouachita parish and all the territory surrounding this city. The occasion will be notable, because it will mark the opening of the "Happy Kitchen" cooking school, sponsored by the Monroe News-Star and World with the cooperation of merchants and business firms of this city.

Mrs. Kate Stafford, who has been brought to Monroe to conduct the school, is one of the most famous household experts in the United States. She is known far and wide for her demonstrations of kitchen economy.

"The kitchen can be the happiest place in the world," is the assertion of Mrs. Stafford. "There's more fun and less work in the modern kitchen than has ever been possible before."

MILLION DOLLAR CACHE ENTERS IN MURDER MYSTERY

Detectives Seek to Learn
Who Slew Rich Eccentricity, Secretary

NEW YORK, May 15.—(AP)—A cache of $1,000,000 in cash popped into the Edward Ridley murder enigma Monday as 50 detectives sought to learn who slew the rich eccentric and his secretary in their dim sanctum, 40 feet below the east side's pavements.

The cash hoard, unopened in computing the mortgage king's wealth—was discovered Sunday in vaults and accounts at a Broadway bank.

Safe entries in three districts—where, in Ridley and his secretary, Lee Weinstein, recorded a long list of secret debtors—were combed by police.

They sought to learn if it was one of the debtors who stole down to the sub-basement office, shot Weinstein and battered Ridley to death with an antique stool amid his hordes of records, mortgages and securities.

They clung to the belief that the same killer may have been guilty of the murder months ago of Herman Moench, Weinstein's predecessor as secretary. He also was slain in the office.

A ton and a half of documents were carted from the office for study. Police said they would seek for more Ridley wealth in many banks. They asked police at Norfolk and Richmond, Va., to search there to determine if Ridley had deposited money in those cities through Weinstein, his secretary. Weinstein formerly lived in Virginia.

Police announced a theory that Weinstein died before Ridley. This

EMPLOYMENT TAX TO BE DISCUSSED

Conference of Congressional Leaders Called
By Roosevelt

WASHINGTON, May 15.—(AP)—Congressional leaders were summoned to a White House conference Monday to discuss with President Roosevelt the proposal for a "re-employment" or "sales" tax to finance the gigantic public works program.

The chief executive was expected to determine whether it would be feasible to recommend the imposition of a general tax on industry of slightly more than one per cent.

Speaker Rainey, Senator Robinson of Arkansas, Representative Byrns of Tennessee, Chairman Doughton of the Ways and Means committee, Senator Harrison of Mississippi, chairman of the senate finance committee, Representatives Ragon, Democrat, Arkansas, and Vinson, Democrat, Kentucky, are among those to attend.

The draft of the measure is com-

CHARLES H. MYERS THOUGHT TO HAVE FALLEN OFF SPAN

Corpse of West Monroe
Man Is Located In River
Near Bosco

DISCARD MURDER IDEA

Authorities Think
Wounds Due to Fall
From Local Bridge

The body of Charles H. Myers, missing from his home at 806 North Fourth street, West Monroe, since May 2, was found Sunday morning caught in underbrush on the west side of the Ouachita river, about 16 miles south of Monroe and about two miles from Bosco. Apparently the man had been dead since the time he disappeared.

After conducting an investigation, Sheriff Milton Coverdale and Dr. C. L. Mengis, parish coroner, reached the conclusion that Myers fell from the Illinois Central railroad bridge in Monroe on the night he disappeared and that the body floated down the river to the point at which it was found. A verdict of accidental death was rendered by the coroner.

An investigation into the possibility that Myers might have been murdered was made by the officers, but they said they could find nothing to substantiate this theory. Mrs. Myers stated that, so far as she knew, her husband did not have any enemies.

Two wounds were found on the man's head, the coroner's report showed. One was on the forehead and the other on the back of the head. Officers expressed the opinion that Myers' head struck the iron supports on the bridge as he fell from the edge of the walk, as the supports project out beyond the walk.

A letter found in Myers' pocket gave the first clue to his identity. It bore a Tallulah date line, was dated April 21 and addressed to Mr. C. H.

BONUS VETERANS HOLD CONVENTION

Strained Relations Exist
In Encamped "Army" of Ex-Soldiers

WASHINGTON, May 15.—(AP)—The comfortably fed but numerically slim bonus army of 1933 Monday got down to the business of holding a "convention" to frame cash-payment demands.

Almost rattling around in the huge Fort Hunt, Virginia, encampment of 800 tents—nearly 700 of which are empty—the 1,200 ex-soldiers making up the army which leaders had predicted would total 8,000 prefaced Monday's speech-making with a piping hot army breakfast.

The menu read: "Rolled oats with sugar and cream, bacon, potatoes, stewed fruit, bread, butter and coffee."

Despite effort, by leaders of the original Fort Hunt contingent to reconcile the "conservatives" who accepted the camp's hospitality only after four shelterless days on the capital's streets, strained relations existed within the army.

These 200 men, led by Mike Thomas of Camden, N. J., continued to live apart from those they had charged were "communist connected."

The thousand or more men who first occupied Fort Hunt under the banners of the veterans national li-

ROGERS HAS HIS SAY

SANTA MONICA, Cal., May 14.—I am hereby entering this argument between young Rockefeller and the Mexican artist, for there is two things that a dumb guy knows as much about as a smart one, and that's art and inflation.

I string with Rockefeller. This artist was selling some art and sneaking in some propaganda. Rockefeller had ordered a plain ham sandwich. But the cook put some onions on it. Rockefeller says, "I will pay you for it but I won't eat the onions." Now the above is said in no disparagement of the Mexican artist, for he is the best in the world. But you should never try to fool a Rockefeller in oils.

Yours,

Will Rogers

MISSISSIPPI AND TRIBUTARIES ARE AGAIN ON SPREE

Rivers Are Being Watched Anxiously In Missouri, Illinois

ST. LOUIS, May 15.—(AP)—Anxious eyes Monday watched the turbulent waters of the Mississippi river and its tributaries in Missouri and southern Illinois where flood warnings had been given.

The "Father of Waters" swirled higher and exceeded or neared flood stage at numerous points. Its tributaries, swelled by heavy rainfall, in many cases swept over lowlands and forced farmers and other persons from their homes.

Rising with little warning, the St. Francis and Black rivers in south-east Missouri inundated farm land for the third time this year. At Poplar Bluff the Black river was two feet over flood stage and expected to rise four feet more.

Highways in that section were impassable. Missouri Pacific and St. Louis San Francisco railway tracks were washed out.

Leaves in Dunklin county, and across the St. Francis river in Arkansas, have not been repaired since floods last month.

The Illinois river was out of its banks in Illinois. In Franklin county the Big Muddy and Little Muddy rivers covered thousands of acres of land. A general overflow of the Wash-burn river was feared at Mount Carmel. The Mississippi was at flood stage there.

The weather bureau at St. Louis

'STRANGER' SOUGHT IN KIDNAP THREAT

JACKSON, Miss., May 15.—(AP)—A mysterious "stranger" was sought Monday in connection with the threatened kidnapping of a nameless 2-month-old baby from the Baptist home for children here.

Twice, a man was reported seen in the vicinity of the orphanage, and when questioned, replied evasively. Police were summoned, but he had disappeared.

A crudely written note threatening the kidnapping of "Baby X" was received last Wednesday by S. C. Melter, superintendent of the orphanage. A patrol of guards is being maintained at the orphanage.

The infant was found in a rude box on the steps of the Baptist church at Durant about two months ago.

Furniture, Lumber Sought To Aid Storm Sufferers

An appeal for donations of household furniture and lumber to aid in the rehabilitation of homes destroyed in Minden and Arcadia during the recent cyclone was made Sunday by George Meyer, Red Cross director of disaster relief in the stricken area.

Mr. Meyer came to Monroe and held a conference with officials of the Ouachita chapter of the Red Cross, and asked for cooperation of the local organization in meeting the need of the two cities in Northeast Louisiana, greatest sufferers from the cyclone.

Following the conference A. E. Montgomery, chairman of the Ouachita chapter, made an announcement pledging the help of the local Red Cross in collecting and trans-

AUDITOR ALLOWS POSTPONEMENT, ALLEN APPROVES

Official Emphasizes, However, Tax Collections
Not Halted

FINAL DATE NOT FIXED

Baynard Thinks 1933
Crops Will Enable Payment of Taxes

BATON ROUGE, La., May 15.—(AP)—State Auditor L. B. Baynard Monday said he had authorized all sheriffs and tax collectors with Gov. Oscar K. Allen's approval to postpone sale of state tax delinquent property indefinitely.

The auditor said delay in advertisement and sale of property for 1932 unpaid taxes had been approved "until further notice" after conferences with sheriffs to allow property owners better opportunity to meet their tax payments with proceeds of this year's crops.

He emphasized, however, that there has been no postponement of tax collections.

Advertisement and sale of property for unpaid state taxes customarily takes place in June and July, with sheriffs and tax collectors rendering their reports to the state auditor immediately thereafter.

Announcement of the authorized delay followed receipt of petitions by the governor and auditor from police juries, sheriffs and other public officials, and numerous property owners requesting such action.

Baynard said he and the governor had agreed upon a valley-wide delayed sales because it appeared that it would be better for the state and the property owners to afford the latter chance to meet their tax payments rather than have the property involved adjudicated to the state.

He declined to fix a probable final date for the sales, but indicated through assertion that harvested crops would facilitate payments that no sales would probably be held until the fall.

"Prices of cotton, rice, corn and other crops are going up," Baynard

SENATOR BLOCKS SHOALS MEASURE

G. O. P. Leader Objects to Immediate Consideration of Report

WASHINGTON, May 15.—(AP)—Immediate consideration of the Muscle Shoals Tennessee valley development bill conference report was blocked in the senate Monday by Senator McNary, the Republican leader, who said many senators wanted an opportunity to study the agreement.

The single objection postponed action for a day under the rules. Chairman Smith of the agriculture committee did not insist upon consideration, but said the senate had gone over the subject so many times and since the report covered substantially the same ground as the bill, it could be disposed of by fast-track of Judge Harold Louderback of California began.

Meanwhile, house conferees on the bill reported Monday that "full success of the Tennessee valley project will depend more upon the ability, vision and executive capacity of the members of the board than upon legislative provisions."

The report, signed by Chairman McSwain and Representative Hill, Democrat, Alabama, author of the house bill, submitted the agreement reached with the senate conferees Saturday. It will be available for house consideration Tuesday.

"We have sought to set up a legislative framework work, but not to encase it in a legislative straight-jacket," McSwain and Hill said.

"We intend that the corporation (Tennessee valley authority) shall

"NOTES LIKE STARS"

Nightfall, make music to my sorrow—
All shades involving in thine ancient shadow,
All flocks enfolded in thy stilly meadow,
Make music to my sorrow, tender nightfall!

Hardly the flocks climb the stone steep, Thy music.
A star, a note, a grace-note star
Lead the poor, silly flocks unto folds eternal—
Call with thine antique flute my nameless sorrow.

A note, a star, a chord of the moon's still splendor
Resolved of that silence no man fathoms,
Down-Echoing, star to star, lights to these rhythms
Step the flocks. Fall not thy music, nightfall, my dumb sorrow!

—Anne Young in the New York Times.

Roses red and roses white were worn by sons and daughters all over the length and breadth of the land yesterday in remembrance of Mother O'Mine.

The tribute paid to the mothers of Monroe yesterday signifies the fact that she is still revered and respected above everything else in all the world.

Some one has said that "a nation which has the desire to honor mothers and motherhood, is immune to any immediate danger of social revolution and disaster."

Mother's day is proving more and more each year the stability of our social structure and our spiritual soundness.

Services in every church in this city yesterday were dedicated to the mothers and of lovely sentiment was the basket of beautiful water lilies presented to the oldest mother in the various congregations. At the First Presbyterian church, Mrs. E. C. Foster was honored as the oldest mother and at the First Church of Christ, Scientist, Mrs. M. E. Hill was found to be the oldest. Mrs. C. J. Griffin was the oldest at the First Baptist church. Members of the Beece Memorial Bible class, meeting in the ball room of the Virginia hotel, honored the oldest mother and the youngest mothers with beautiful gifts of flowers. Mrs. G. R. Ober, Sr., was the oldest and Mrs. Frank Reitzel was the youngest. At Grace church, mothers who were unable to attend services were remembered with a gift of flowers.

A Cleansing Laxative

For the relief of constipation troubles, Mr. L. R. Myers, of Justin, Texas, writes that he has obtained good results from the use of Dr. J. C. Black-Draught, obtainable at any store where medicines are sold. "At times I feel tired, sore and out of sorts and my head will begin aching," writes Mr. Myers. "I know if I don't get this trouble fixed, it will get me down. I take a dose of Black-Draught for two or three nights. It cleanses my system and I feel fine."

Children like the new, pleasant-tasting SYRUP of Black-Draught.

Just about the time President Roosevelt's morning coffee is served to him in his upstairs study in the White House two pairs of bright blue eyes peek into the room.

The door flies open and there is a mad scramble as "Sistie" and "Buzzie" Dall, his grandchildren, race to his side.

For 10 merry minutes—just to start the day off right—the trio plays "whiff-puff!" All the Roosevelts have played it in their childhood—one of your hands becomes a mysterious bug that travels and travels and finally pounces.

Sistie is six years old and Buzzie almost three. Sistie thinks there is nothing quite so much fun as hide-and-seek—slipping into a big, dark clothes closet and just staying there, "still as a mouse," until her elders find her.

Shortly the elders are flying in and out of rooms, pulling doors open, clicking exploring hands into rows of hanging clothes. Finally there is a muffled giggle and little yellow haired Sistie and Buzzie, who perform accompanied by her sister when she goes adventuring, are pulled from their hiding place.

"There's no way out of it," says their mother, Mrs. Curtis Dall, with a humorous little smile.

Sistie is just learning to write and read. She sees a pencil and announces, "I'll write my name for you." Paper is furnished and she whisks off "Sistie."

"That's splendid," she is told. The large letters sprawl all over the page in childish fashion. "That's terrible," she says quite solemnly and takes another try at making the letters more orthodox in size.

"Would you like to go for a walk?" she is asked. But that isn't active enough for her, Buzzie says "Yes."

Even in Washington the children are held to their strict schedule—up at 7:15, breakfast half an hour later, lunch at 12:30, an hour and a half's nap, out of door play until tea time. Dinner and to bed at seven.

Mrs. Lawrence Mailhes, president of the Louisiana Parent-Teacher association, and Mrs. C. R. Caldwell, president of the Shreveport Council of Parents and Teachers, both of Shreveport, will leave today for Seattle, Wash., where they will attend the annual convention of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers to be held there May 21 to 26.

Mrs. Mailhes and Mrs. Caldwell will represent Louisiana at the sessions and Mrs. Mailhes will speak on "Recreation in Home and Community" at the sessions.

Idaho boy trumpeters will have a part in the program as will groups of father singers. "The End of the Trail" will be the theme of the annual banquet when the hotel rooms will be transformed into a log cabin interior and with miniature covered wagons and rustic candles will be used in the decorations.

Mrs. W. H. Bannister, member of the Garden club, was the fortunate one to claim the beautiful box of flowers arranged with exquisite artistry by Mrs. Martha Cosper of the Grand Floral company.

Members of the Neville high school P. T. A. enjoyed the splendid program on health prepared by a committee from the Woman's Auxiliary to the Ouachita parish Medical Association at the last meeting of this school term. Dr. F. C. Bennett was the first speaker with "The Peculiar Child" his subject, viewing it from the angle of mental training. He said that all children are born with the same instincts of self preservation and selfishness. There is no conscience or scruples until instilled by training and teaching. There is a vast distance between the imbecile and the precocious child though there can be no hard and fast line drawn between sanity and insanity. One of the tasks all children must learn is to live in groups. If taught at home the task of the school-teacher is easier. The mother must be careful not to be too sympathetic. Every child should be encouraged to have initiative. All child training is for the purpose of teaching children to be useful citizens. They should be carefully shown that the main object in life is personal happiness.

Dr. Nathan Loston spoke on "Orthodontia—How and Why." He said he chose the subject because of its interest and because it is the nearest thing to practical preventative dentistry and comes more nearly insuring dental health than any other one thing to be thought of. The word orthodontia means straight teeth. Orthodontic treatment does a great deal more however than merely straighten the teeth. A definition written in the simplest lay terms would be, "Orthodontia is the science which has for its object the correction of crooked teeth, the restoring of facial harmony, and the restoration of normal functional activity to each structure that goes to make up the oral cavity." Straight teeth are an indication of the fact that the mouth, jaw and face are normal—that they fit as they are intended by nature to fit. The treatment for correction of inharmonious conditions consists in stimulating (by very gentle pressure) the bone cells to renewed growth activity.

The "why" of orthodontia is because it pleases all parents to see their children as nearly handsome as possible as one of the advantages of life that can be provided. This parental desire leads more patients to the orthodontist's office than any one thing because the form and expression of the face are almost dependent upon the shape of the mouth. If teeth are perfect in their alignment the muscles of the cheek tongue and lips pass over them continually and keep them clean as it is possible to imagine, and they are less prone to decay. If a person sixty or seventy years old brags that he has every one of his own teeth and has never been to a dentist in his life, upon examining his mouth you will find the most beautifully straight teeth you ever saw in your life.

The meeting was presided over by the president, Mrs. Clyde Paine. Mrs. H. J. Feinstein read the minutes and Mrs. C. E. Kenny gave a complete treasurer's report for the year. Mrs. C. L. Thompson, delegate to the convention at Lake Charles made a splendid report and showed she had received much inspiration. Mr. C. E. Kenny spoke of the closing of the second year of his work in Monroe and of the plans for next year. He said we have been taught wonderful things by the depression and if we profit by them, all of us will make better teachers, friends and neighbors in the broadest sense. Membership cards were read and distributed. Mrs. T. L. Tippet, president of the Twin-Cities Council installed the new officers, Mrs. C. L. Thompson, president, Mrs. W. C. Oliver and Mr. C. E. Kenny, vice-presidents; Mrs. Feinstein, secretary, and Mrs. W. D. King, treasurer. Mrs. Thompson took the chair and announced the following committee chairman for next year: Program, Mrs. P. A. Poag; membership, Mrs. B. J. Renaud; publicity, Mrs. W. C. Oliver; finance, Mrs. Louis Hart; hospitality, Mrs. Louis Hart; study group, Mrs. Clyde Paine; thrift, Mrs. J. W. Worthington.

Mrs. Nell Grigsby of Tyler, Tex., was present, and welcomed as an untiring P. T. A. worker when a resident of this city. She made the announcement of the "Passion Play" to be given in the Neville auditorium May 24 and 25.

Members of the alumni of the Louisiana State Normal college are making elaborate plans for their second annual banquet in this city, according to word just received from the local president, Mr. D. A cordial invitation is extended to all graduates and all students to attend the banquet and to make reservations at once with Mrs. Truitt Scarborough, 1931-W. Officers for the new year will be elected at this time and other business matters will be transacted. The evening's program will also feature charming musical numbers and interesting addresses.

GIVEN IN MARRIAGE

Philip Veritzen. Apparently Having Put Aside All Antagonism to Mary, Falls in Line With the Wedding Plans

By ADELE GARRISON

MARY'S EYES were suddenly stary as she lifted them to the keen ones of her future father-in-law. She was so winsome, so lovely, so loving, that I wondered how a man could indulge in a rancor against her, or disapproval of her.

Apparently Philip Veritzen had put all antagonism to her behind him. There was softness and admiration in his eyes, and his face held the smile for her answer to his question.

"Object! To my favorite roses—those bronze-yellow ones with the touch of rose pink!" Mary's voice was a carol of delight. "No, I shan't object. I shall adore them! Thank you so much, Mr. Veritzen." "Now, now!" The great producer's voice was gently chiding. "Don't you think I rate something warmer than a 'Mr. Veritzen.' You'll have to learn sooner or later, you know. Don't you think you would better practice calling me 'Uncle'?"

"Ah, there, my boy!" apparently catching sight of him for the first time—"congratulations, even if I be late!" Mrs. Graham, no doubt, has explained to you how a delayed letter—in fact I haven't received it yet—has kept me from coming over before. But I am here at last, and I shall try to make amends for my absence.

"But, first—he turned back to Mary with a whimsical smile—"ready to practice?"

The New Daughter

A touch of the delicate diablerie which is always slumbering deep in Mary's ego flashed into her face, and moving swiftly to Philip Veritzen's side she flung her arms about his neck, kissed him warmly and murmured sweetly, "Thank you, father dear." Then she dropped her arms, moved back a step and in a voice which a Quakeress might envy said demurely:

"Was that right?"

An inscrutable gleam flashed into Philip Veritzen's eyes, then as quickly faded again as he smiled at the girl. "That was a letter-perfect rehearsal," he said. "See that you always play the role as well."

Now start and flush, but Mary's histrionic powers stood her in good stead. Only her eyes widened a trifle at the two-edged speech.

But if Philip Veritzen saw anything amiss in either face, he took no notice of it. Instead, he turned with a low bow to Mrs. Graham.

"Would it be possible, after dinner, for me to have a word with these young people upon the subject of their honeymoon plans? Of course

I shall want you to be present," he amended hurriedly. "You really are the dea ex machina of their affairs. You know."

"Did I fancy it, or was there a mocking glint in the eyes that met mine?" Was he saying in effect "I know who is responsible for the thwarting of my plans in this direction, and I shall not forget," or was he really trying to be affable and decent about the whole matter?

Whichever the answer, I had but one course open before me, and I promptly acted upon it.

800 Seeking to Qualify For National Tourney

NEW YORK, May 15.—(AP)—More than 800 professionals and amateurs, including a scattering few of the game's top-notchers, swung into action on 20 courses Monday in the annual sectional qualifying round for the National Open golf championship which will be played at Chicago June 8, 9 and 10.

By nightfall, all of the 116 places in 20 districts.

EIGHT WOMEN IN ONE FAMILY BENEFITED

Another Remarkable Record for Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

MRS. ALBERT MUNNINGHOFF
122 E. Ninth St., Newport, Kentucky

"Both my grandmother and my mother always took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. My mother has six daughters and we all use it too. If I ever have a daughter I shall certainly give it to her. I never felt better in my life."—MRS. ALBERT MUNNINGHOFF.

Perhaps your mother or your grandmother depended upon Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, too. Thousands of women do. They give it to their daughters as they come to womanhood—they take it before and after childbirth—they rely upon it at middle age. It must be good when 98 out of 100 women say, "It helps me."

"MY MOTHER TOOK THIS MEDICINE TOO"

"My mother took your medicine the greater part of her life, especially at the Change. She is now 63 and in good health. I took it for weakness when I was single. I also took it before childbirth and I have two lovely girls. I highly recommend the Vegetable Compound especially during pregnancy. It makes childbirth very easy."

GROUP IS NAMED TO AID FINANCE OF PLAYGROUNDS

Miss Wossman Selects Members of Special Committee

Following the unanimous decision on the part of the Parent-Teacher association council of the Twin Cities to sponsor the operation of Monroe playgrounds this summer, Miss Julia Wossman was named chairman of a special committee to devise ways and means for the financing of the work.

In turn, members of the various P-T-A. groups here have been named by Miss Wossman to serve on her committee. They are as follows: Mrs. W. H. Armstrong, Mrs. L. H. Bennett, Mrs. R. J. Colter, Mrs. C. L. Couch, Mrs. F. B. Eckard, Mrs. A. M. Guerrero, Mrs. J. D. King, Mrs. R. L. McHenry, Mrs. Louis Masur, Mrs. D. M. Moore, Mrs. Ike Pearson, Mrs. Henry Stein, Mrs. C. L. Thompson.

Also the citizens' steering committee will aid the group just named. They comprise: Rev. Thomas P. Jett, John Madden, R. N. Slater, Rev. Ernest Holloway and A. B. Clarkson. The last named is national representative of playground work here.

Five plans are being considered and from the number it is expected that some satisfactory means of raising the funds needed will be worked out.

FURNITURE AND LUMBER WANTED

tributed under the direction of the Red Cross disaster relief organization.

Mr. Meyer, in his conference with Red Cross officials Sunday, said that in all his experience in disaster relief he had never witnessed devastation so complete as that which occurred at Minden during the cyclone. There are now 604 families in Arcadia and Minden registered for relief. Among these are more than 100 white families. Thirty per cent of the negro families are home owners. All have lost everything they possessed prior to the storm. Director Meyer said.

"Thirty-six deaths occurred in the disaster and 100 persons are being given hospitalization. Five hundred others escaped with more or less serious injuries. It is expected that all with the exception of three will be cleared from the registration by June 1. As an illustration of the character of injuries, Mr. Meyer told of one woman with two legs broken, an arm fractured, ribs and collar bone broken, and skull fractured. She is still living and is expected to recover.

"The great need in both Minden and Arcadia," he said, "is materials for rebuilding and restoring the homes. The Emergency Relief association, set up under the government auspices, is giving splendid cooperation in supplying labor. Help from various parts of the state has been generous and prompt, but there is much still to be done, and that can only be accomplished if the people are provided with materials for rebuilding and furnishing their homes. We need lumber of all kinds, as well as all kinds of furniture and household supplies. We are confident the people of Monroe will respond to this appeal for help on behalf of their sister cities."

Mr. Meyer paid a tribute to the generosity of the railroads and other corporations. The L. and A. railroad has placed 52 box cars on the tracks at Minden to house the homeless, and these have been rendered completely habitable, with adequate sanitary arrangements for the comfort of the refugees.

Seven workers of the national Red Cross have been assigned to the stricken area to superintend measures of relief.

Rev. Scallon to Talk To Inter-Church Group

The regular meeting of the Inter-church Youth council of the Twin Cities will be held Monday night in the annex of the First Methodist church at 8 o'clock. Rev. B. A. Scallon, assistant pastor of St. Matthew's church, is to be the speaker of the night. He will take as his theme, "The Application of Religion to Every Day Life." One of the phases of the subject to be discussed is "What Should a Christian Do on Sunday?" The general public is invited to attend.

said, "and there is probability that crop harvests will help taxpayers pay their taxes."

He asserted that postponed sales should not deter property owners from paying taxes if able to do so, since interest is charged on delinquent levies.

"There has been no postponement of tax collections," he said, "but I have advised sheriffs not to advertise nor sell delinquent property until further notice or instructions."

Baynard explained that an emergency proclamation by Governor Allen would be necessary for tax postponement and that no such proclamation had been issued.

The auditor said tax payments had been good in many parishes and that some sheriffs had reported 80 per cent collection with an additional 10 to 15 per cent likely within 60 days.

Total collection figures are not yet available, he asserted. He said the state would not be financially handicapped as result of the postponed sales, but on the contrary would be benefited.

SKIN'S AIR POCKETS FIGHT 'RAW' FEELING

LONDON, May 15.—(AP)—The "raw" feeling in cold, moist weather is due to the atmosphere getting closer to the skin.

A microscope reveals this, says W. A. Osborne of the University of Melbourne in "Nature." The microscope shows the skin partly insulated against weather changes by a layer of tiny air pockets embedded in its surface. When the atmosphere is heavy with moisture these pockets contract, expelling some of the protecting air layer.

MOTHER'S DAY IS OBSERVED HERE; SPECIAL SERMONS

Honor Paid to Parent In Inspiring Church Services

Mother's day was well observed in the Twin Cities Sunday. A large number of business men attended the Major Memorial Bible class at Hotel Virginia. They were the guests of the class and of Hotel Virginia and for the occasion mothers of the men were also present.

Veterans of Foreign Wars post members and members of the auxiliary, were present at the First Baptist church in West Monroe for a special Mother's day service in which Rev. E. E. Huntsberry, pastor, preached the sermon.

In addition to these services, practically all churches in Monroe and West Monroe held special exercises and sermons of the day were dedicated to mother and her important place in life, through the shaping of the character of the men and women of today and of the future.

Aged Negro Woman Is Fatally Hurt Sunday

Struck Sunday afternoon at 3:45 by an automobile driven by Jordon Riley, negro, 205 North Congo street, Lula Floyd, 70, negro woman, living at Twelfth and Layton streets, was fatally injured. She was taken to a hospital, but died about an hour later. The accident occurred at the intersection of Eleventh street and the Missouri Pacific railroad.

Dr. C. L. Mengis, parish coroner, who conducted an investigation, said the immediate cause of the woman's death appeared to be a fractured skull. In addition, she suffered an abdominal wound, a fracture of the left arm and an injury to the left ankle.

Riley was taken into custody by police and held while an investigation was being made. Dr. Mengis stated he would return a verdict that the woman's death was accidental. Officers stated that Riley, who is employed by J. C. Liner, had been drinking, but that he apparently was not driving in a reckless manner.

Two negro witnesses who were questioned by the coroner said Riley did not appear to be going more than five or 10 miles an hour at the time the woman was struck and that he had been going only about 15 or 20 miles an hour shortly before she was struck. They said a small negro girl who was walking with the woman jumped into a ditch to avoid the car and that the woman could have avoided the machine by stepping to one side if she had not become excited. She was said to have stepped toward the ditch and then to have jumped back into the street in front of the car. Riley said he saw the little girl, but did not see the woman until after his car had struck her.

Why Schools Suffer

(Editorial From The New Orleans States.)

Not often since Reconstruction days have the schools of Louisiana sunk to their present despondently low level. Their terms have been shortened to seven months, in many cases they have not been able to carry on that long, and not only have thousands of children suffered, but hundreds of teachers for months have got only a small portion of their monthly stipend, if even that. Many have been getting nothing but scrip.

In these columns we have shown why, in spite of the heavy taxes the state and local communities have paid, this condition has come about. What we have pointed out was emphasized at the meeting of the Louisiana Taxpayers Association at Alexandria, Wednesday, at which practically all the parishes were represented.

It is that, under the system followed by Huey P. Long and the puppet administration he has begotten to the state, there is no allocation of revenues as they are turned into the banks, although the distribution of the total state millage is specifically provided for by the legislature. Instead, all moneys go into one account, including those that are specifically dedicated to the schools, and they are warranted against indiscriminate use for this, that or the other department, with the result that much of the school money is diverted to other state requirements, leaving teachers and students to hold the bag.

Not only that, but the state is running so heavily behind, that it is no longer able to keep out of the red, despite the millions in taxes arbitrarily and brutally levied, over the protest of the taxpayers at the session of the legislature last year, when Mr. Long deserted his seat in the senate to come down there and force on the people a new program of taxation.

Mr. Lence, general manager of the Taxpayers' association, put the case plainly in figures to the association at Alexandria.

In spite of all the nuisance taxes enacted at the 1932 session of the legislature, he pointed out, the overdraft in the state's general fund increased $883,591.45 during the first quarter of this year.

On December 31, 1932, the treasurer's books showed an overdraft of $2,452,429.80. At the end of March, 1933, the overdraft had reached the enormous total of $2,341,024.84.

Doesn't that make it plain to the taxpayers why, with all taxes lumped, not allocated, when they are turned into the banks, the money dried out of them for the benefit of the schools doesn't go to the schools but is used to meet the colossal expenditures of the recklessly extravagant administration at Baton Rouge.

To emphasize his point, Mr. Lence quoted from the report of one of the accountants of the association. It said that unless some taxpayer is willing to go into court and restrain Mr. Long's treasurer from disbursing credit balances in certain funds by paying out his cash balance in bank, a system that creates the mounting overdrafts, we are rapidly approaching a time when the state's financial condition will be such, perhaps in a few weeks, that the state treasurer will be unable to honor drafts for credit balances, will be unable to pay pensions to the remnants of the Confederate armies of Louisiana, will be unable to transfer from the general fund and pay to the schools any portion of the $1,500,000 to which they are looking forward this year.

It is a tragic picture that is thus presented of the maladministration of the finances of Louisiana that has come to us under Longism.

Are we to have it corrected? Or are we going to sit by supinely as we go from bad to worse, with bankruptcy of the schools in the offing, despite the millions we are taxed for them, school doors closed to students, and the teachers of the state driven to a precipice that overlooks starvation and misery?

A Wrong View

A proposal by the Hugenberg Press of Berlin for counteracting what it describes as anti-German propaganda is based upon the wrong assumption that world opinion is being turned against Germany by deliberate misrepresentation of conditions there in relation to the anti-Semitic campaign.

The Berlin newspaper suggests the establishment of "the ether watch dog." Under its plan, a German radio station near Berlin would employ a staff of propaganda observers, familiar with English, French and other languages. It would be their duty to listen to all broadcasts from foreign countries and when they heard any supposedly incorrect statement which they judged to be prejudicial to Germany they would put a "correction" on the air as soon as the foreign station paused in its program.

"And a few such corrections will suffice," says the press, "to induce foreign broadcasting stations to refrain from sending out any more false reports and being stamped before their own hearers."

It is not irresponsible radio broadcasts that have influenced American opinion in its unsympathetic attitude toward the Nazi prosecution of Jews, but reports from reliable sources picturing conditions in Germany. Sufficient news of this kind has come from Germany. The way for Germany to regain popular good will in this and other countries is to cease its anti-Semitic campaign and direct its energies along more humane and constructive lines.

German economic interests are reported already feeling the blighting effects of world opinion and beginning to exert pressure upon the government for abandonment of its campaign. This is a promising sign.

There is one place where a man who couldn't succeed in any other way could succeed.

Uncommon Sense

By John Blake

SYNTHETIC SUNSHINE

Man has succeeded, after many thousand years, in making one variety of sunshine.

The same rays that warm you actually "through and through" on bright days can now be made by machinery, and they produce the same healing effects on the body as do the rays that filter down from the sky through space.

But what science has not done and never can do, without the aid of practically the whole population of the earth, is to create the kind of sunshine which produces in the mind of man the same feeling he experiences when the sun slides from behind a cloud and fills a gloomy world with radiance.

Men must solve this problem.

They must learn without outside aid from scientists that there are ways to dispel the gloom from the mind as sunshine dispels it from the face of the earth.

They must learn to take stock of their troubles, for when these are all listed and examined, many of them will be set aside as trifling.

Petty disappointments, jealousy, distrust, fear of the future all compose the gloom clouds that lie so heavy on men's hearts and souls.

Most of these things are unjustified and quite unnecessary.

If you will sit down and think that the man whose success you envy is not harming you in the least by that success, you will probably feel better about it.

If you will bear in mind that a few failures do not mean ruin, a truth which has been proved by thousands of people who have had failures and found prosperity later on, you will feel more cheerful.

Good and bad times come in cycles, but neither are permanent.

Thanks to modern medicine you probably have less reason for gloom than you formerly had, for you have been taught to take better care of your health, and health comes as near to bringing happiness as anything else.

Make as much of your own sunshine as you can. If you will do that you will be making sunshine for others.

One happy hopeful person in a room will lift the spirits of the others.

There is, and possibly always will be, sorrow and trouble in the world.

But its amount can be reduced, if you will list your troubles carefully. For a close inspection of them will disclose the fact that they are not nearly so dreadful as you thought them, and many of them can be thrown overboard forever.

I am not a "keep smiling" addict, but I know that at least half of the things we worry about are not worth worrying about at all.

So make synthetic sunshine for home and outdoor use, and you will thereafter be a better companion for your family and friends, and find that there is more fun in life than you ever dreamed.

INTERPRETATION

She sang of woodlands where the stars
In beauty lit the path,
She sang of storms, magnificent,
In light and thunder's wrath.

She sang of beauty where it was,
In simple dreams or great.
And those who had no gift of song
Upon her songs would wait

To glimpse a beauty dimly felt;
She made the world seem new;
Her little songs for many made
Their visioning come true.

BANK ROBBERY SUSPECT TAKEN

Man Believed Involved

rested at Houston

BATON ROUGE, La., May 13.—(P)—Arrest in Houston, Tex., of Rutland Carter, sought as a suspect in the robbery of the Bank of Zwolle, La., several months ago, was reported Monday by Superintendent R. L. Whitman of the state bureau of criminal identification.

Whitman said the bureau had been notified that Carter was being held by the sheriff's office in Houston.

after his arrest with two other men, and that Sheriff E. L. Edwards of Sabine parish had filed a detainer.

The other two men were not involved in the Zwolle hold-up, Whitman said. Only two men executed the robbery, he asserted, one being captured with a quantity of money shortly after.

The identification bureau superintendent said Carter was identified through a bureau circular.

He expressed doubt that Carter would be returned to Louisiana because of probability of his being returned to the Texas penitentiary at Huntsville to serve out two long unexpired terms there.

Whitman said Carter participated in the Zwolle hold-up after obtaining a leave of absence from the Texas penitentiary.

Two Are Drowned When Boat Overturns In Bayou

JENNINGS, La., May 13.—(P)—Plunged into Bayou Nezpique when their outboard motor boat overturned, Miss Sylvia Himler, 32, and John Compton, 35, were drowned late Sunday. Their companion, George M. Harper, Jr., swam ashore. The bayou is situated southeast of Jennings.

The body of Compton, who drowned attempting to save Miss Himler, was recovered quickly and the latter's body was brought ashore shortly after nightfall.

Miss Himler was a graduate of Louisiana State university. Compton operated a machine shop here.

AMERICAN OFFICIALS WATCH WITH CONCERN

WASHINGTON, May 13.—(P)—American officials are watching with some concern the progress of arms reduction efforts at Geneva where German objections to the British disarmament plan have forced the sessions to recess temporarily.

They looked expectantly Monday to the scheduled address of Chancellor Hitler of Germany to his Reichstag on Wednesday on the subject of armaments. Definite indication is expected at that time as to whether Fascist Germany is disposed to be conciliatory enough to permit some definite accomplishment with which to close the arms conference.

American officials believe the success or lack of it at Geneva may indicate the prospects for an agreement on economic issues at the London economic conference opening June 12 as the same political considerations, friendships and antagonisms will be manifest.

With the American delegation to the London meeting scheduled to sail two weeks from Saturday, President Roosevelt gave thought Monday to completing its personnel.

In making up the American group, Mr. Roosevelt is said to be analyzing the prospects of achieving success at the world parley. Unless the chances are good he does not want to sacrifice for a period of at least two months and perhaps twice that long the services of important key men in his administration.

This applies particularly to Secretary Cordell Hull of the state department, Assistant Secretary Raymond Moley of the same department, and Assistant Secretary R. G. Tugwell of the agriculture department.

The only figure outside of the administration and congress understood authoritatively to be slated to go is James M. Cox, 1920 Democratic presidential candidate. The president may choose others and is known to be looking for one or two Republicans.

Secretary Hull presumably would go as head of the delegation but would not stay throughout.

SIMON DECLINES TO COMMIT SELF

LONDON, May 13.—(P)—Foreign Secretary Sir John Simon declined in the house of commons Monday further to commit himself or the government on the question of intimations that Germany intended to rearm.

Sir John declared it was necessary to await resumption of the disarmament conference commission's sessions in Geneva.

The foreign minister had been asked if he were prepared to make a statement on "the declaration of the German foreign minister that, whatever the result of the disarmament conference, Germany intends to rearm, thereby breaking the terms of the treaty of Versailles."

"I can make no further statement," Sir John replied, "pending resumption of the general commission of the disarmament conference on Thursday."

Josiah C. Wedgwood, Labor member, asked whether among the various steps which might be taken the possibility would be considered of "resummoning the supreme council of allied and associated powers with a view of getting the matter settled in concert with them and checking this German action."

No reply was forthcoming.

In the house of lords last Thursday Lord Hailsham asserted that in his opinion any attempt on the part of Germany to rearm would be a breach of the Versailles treaty and would bring into operation sanctions provided by that treaty.

EARL EVANS JAILED

Charged with possession and sale of whisky, Earl Evans, 32, was being held in the parish jail Monday, after being arrested Saturday by members of the sheriff's department.

Even Police Included In "Share Work" Plan

CHICKASHA, Okla., May 13.—(P)—It's going to hurry Chickasha residents to get acquainted with the cop on the beat, who almost any day is likely to turn out to be a couple of other fellows.

One of the first announcements by the city's new mayor, C. A. Dearmon, involved a plan whereby every officer except the chief would be replaced every 60 days.

It's Dearmon's application of the "share the work" theory to a community which he says has many good potential patrolmen in need of employment. He admitted it was an experiment, but asserted it would be given a thorough trial.

NEWTON'S MOTION IS BEING HEARD

Is Effort to Nullify Recent Grand Jury Indictments

Hearing on a motion filed by Tom Newton in an effort to have all indictments returned at the recent grand jury session nullified, was scheduled to begin at 2:30 p.m. Monday in district court here before Judge J. T. Shell. The motion was filed in behalf of Irvin Beard, 15, negro, charged with murder in connection with the fatal shooting of John Hardy, negro, near Calhoun, last February 23.

Mr. Newton contends that the grand jury was illegally drawn and that therefore its actions were illegal for the reason that J. M. Cobb is serving both as a member of the school board and as a member of the jury commission. If the indictment should be found illegal with respect to Beard the same would hold true in regard to all other indictments returned by the present grand jury.

If the action of the grand jury is held to be valid in this respect, the attorney will seek to show that the defendant cannot be tried in district court for the reason that he is only 15 years old.

Anderson Not Sought By Officers In City

Notice that E. B. Anderson, formerly sentenced from Ouachita parish to serve four years for burglary, has been arrested in Marshall, Texas, for investigation was received here Monday by the sheriff's department. A call was received asking whether or not Anderson was wanted here.

When first taken into custody here several years ago, Anderson was charged with criminal assault, robbery and driving an automobile while intoxicated. Later these charges were dropped, after he had entered a plea of guilty to a charge of burglary and had been sentenced to serve four years. So far as officers here know, Anderson is not wanted in this section of Louisiana.

Ranchers Take to Range On Trail of Rustlers

DICKINSON, N. D., May 13.—(P)—Ranchers of this western North Dakota cattle country are riding the range again in search of rustlers.

Determined to stop cattle and horse thievery they have organized to stamp out the menace which they say is the worst since early ranching days.

The modern-day rustlers are butchering cattle on the spot, hauling away the beef with trucks. Range horses, however, are being taken out alive. Recently an airplane was used by ranchers to locate a band of rustlers driving a herd of 40 head out of the Badlands country. The horses were retrieved, but the rustlers escaped.

fighting. Their modern war equipment inflicted heavy damage in Chinese ranks.

There could be no accurate check on the dead, but General Ho Ying-Ching, Chinese minister of war, estimated 3,000 Chinese were killed last week.

The Chinese were holding a line three miles south of Shihhsia, where the Japanese command was believed consolidating forces for a drive on Miyunhsien. To the east, Japanese troops advancing out of the Luan river triangle along the ancient Mandarin highway had reached the outskirts of Fengjun, an important crossroads, 90 miles from Peiping.

The morale of Chinese troops was high. They felt they had lost "face" by the precipitate flight from Jehol and they were determined to regain it in defense of Peiping.

"B. C." Relieves Your Headache In 3 Minutes

Realizing that no one drug can relieve all headaches, as they come from so many causes, a North Carolina pharmacist has developed a combination of several ingredients, so blended and proportioned as to relieve almost any headache in a few minutes. You can get this formula wherever drugs are sold under the name "B. C." 10c and 25c packages, and when you have one of those violent nerve-racking headaches, from inorganic causes, "B. C." will give you soothing relief in three minutes. "B. C." should also be used for the relief of muscular aches and pains, common colds and neuralgia, reducing fever, and for quieting a distressed nervous system without opiates, narcotics or such habit forming drugs. A great thing has occurred amongst us. We have made a complete turnaround, and at last America's face is toward the future.

Three years---1929 to 1932---we Americans looked backward. All our old financial and political machinery was geared to pull us out of the depression by the same door through which we entered. We thought it simply a case of going back the way we came. It failed. We now realize that the way out is forward---through it.

Thanks for that belongs to President Roosevelt. Inauguration Day he turned the Ship of State around. Having observed the failure of sincere efforts to haul us back the way we came, he designed a new method---new political and financial machinery---to pull us out the way we are going---forward. He is clearing international obstacles out of the way; he does not stand in awe of tariffs. The people begin to feel that he does not take advice from the "interests"; that he has courage and loyalty to work for one supreme interest only---the welfare of the American people. That is a big achievement for two months in office.

And now we all look to what is coming; we grow less and less concerned with what is behind. We are looking for a hand-hold on the haul rope. Every man wants to do what he can, and all he can.

The best thing I can do for the Country is to create industry by building good motor cars. If I knew anything better to do, I would do it. Industry must be my contribution. Motor cars must face ahead to the future, like everything else. They are so much a part of the Nation's daily life that if they lag behind they hold the Country back.

CHINESE RETREAT BEFORE JAPANESE

Attack On Town Fifty Miles From Peiping Is Begun Monday

TOKYO, May 15.—(P)—Lieut. Gen. Yoshikazu Nichi, personally commanding his 8th division, Monday attacked the town of Nanshengchuang, ten miles northeast of Miyun in north China and about 50 miles from Peiing, and the occupation of Miyun was declared to be imminent. Simultaneously the 8th Japanese division swept past the town of Fengjun, west of the Luan river, and found easy progress along the plains stretching towards Peiping. This division is commanded by Lieut. General Masayemon Sakamoto.

Reports from all fronts received by the Rengo (Japanese) news agency were that the Chinese morale was collapsing and there were many desertions. General Sakamoto took Fengjun this morning after the Chinese defenders had retreated.

Steady progress by four other Japanese commanders in their drive westward was reported in Rengo dispatches from the front Sunday. All were headed toward Fengjun and Tsunhuwa.

EVACUATION OF TANGSHAN IS BEGUN BY CHINESE

TIENTSIN, May 15.—(P)—Evacuation of Tangshan, headquarters of the British Kailan mining interests, was begun Monday by Chinese forces after Japanese fliers had attacked the town and bombed cement works and cotton mills.

Anti-aircraft guns went into action, but the fliers maintained sufficient altitude and escaped being hit.

It was believed there had been few casualties, but property damage was heavy.

The bombers returned for a second raid and dropped explosives on Chinese troops scrambling out of trenches one mile outside the city.

Two bombs fell in the garden at the residence of the British chief engineer of the Kailan mining administration.

Previously the Chinese had evacuated Lwanchow, chief city of the right bank of the Ling river, east of the mining center.

Meanwhile, there was an unconfirmed report here that Japanese authorities had handed the Chinese an ultimatum demanding evacuation not only of the Tientsin area, but also of Tangku, at the mouth of the Pao river on the seacoast 35 miles east of here.

CONGRESS HOPES TO ADJOURN SOON

Passage of Three Big Measures During This Week Expected

WASHINGTON, May 15.—(P)—Congress entered the tenth week of the special session Monday with high hopes of a rousing home-stretch dash for adjournment by June 10.

Leaders were optimistic that the next six days would see at least three important measures at the White House—the administration's Tennessee valley-Muscle Shoals, securities regulation and the gasoline tax-postage rate reduction bills.

The last segment of President Roosevelt's domestic emergency program—the public works-industrial control legislation—was expected to go to capitol hill by Tuesday or Wednesday. Quick action appeared in prospect unless a wide-open fight develops on its taxation features.

The senate Monday was ready to begin the Louderback impeachment trial while the house planned to consider miscellaneous bills. Beginning Tuesday, the senate probably will hold the impeachment trial in the mornings so as to keep the afternoons free for legislative work.

Meanwhile committees are shaping the Roosevelt railroad reorganization measure and plan to make reports this week, with final action before June 1 appearing almost certain.

Banking reform legislation will be introduced in the senate by Senator Glass, Democrat, Virginia, soon, probably Monday. His measure was unanimously approved by the banking committee Saturday and Glass hopes to pilot it through to enactment before adjournment.

The only major barriers to adjournment by June 10 that are now seen by Democratic leaders lie in the possibility of presidential requests for authority to deal with war debts and make reciprocal tariff agreements with foreign nations. These controversial subjects are regarded as certain to stir up a fire of debate and opposition. Nevertheless, Mr. Roosevelt is expected to ask at least for power to negotiate tariff agreements.

Lake Providence

Mrs. W. H. Mahen was hostess to the S. N. D. C., entertaining in the lovely parlors of Hotel Mahen, and having as guests the members of the club, Mesdames J. C. Gross, Mrs. J. C. Hanley, Mrs. W. C. Lyon, Mrs. R. B. Pinkston and Mrs. J. N. Turner. Substitute players for Mrs. W. H. Mahen and Mrs. J. P. McCain were Mrs. W. D. Brown and Mrs. W. K. Evans. High score was won by Mrs. Evans.

The Methodist Bible Study class met with Mrs. A. K. Amacker, teaching the first book of Samuel. Members present were Mrs. H. J. De Weese, Mrs. A. G. Frost, Mrs. John Donovan, Mrs. Aubra Frazier, Mrs. Joe Sutton, Mrs. J. P. Davis, Mrs. J. B. Erwin and Mrs. Charles Brown.

The community club was truly a treasure house of art when the Carroll Woman's club presented to lovers of the beautiful the loan art exhibit from the Louisiana library commission. Among the most popular were "Lesson of Love," by Watteau, "Madonna and Child," by Raphael, "Avenue of Trees," by Hobbema, "Woman at the Spinning Wheel," by Taylor, "Infanta in Red," by Velasquez, "Laughing Cavalier," by Franz Hals, and "Spring," by Corot. After the viewing of the prints the following enjoyable program was rendered:

Vocal solo, "A Brown Bird Singing," by F. D. Adkisson, Jr., with Mrs. F. D. Adkisson accompanist.

Piano solo, "Traumerei" (Schuman), Miss Agnes Hamley.

Violin solo, "Why Can't This Night Go on Forever," Miss Bert Estelle Herzog.

Piano solo, "My Darling," Miss Agnes Hamley.

Vocal solo, "Ah, Sweet Mystery of Life," F. D. Adkisson, Jr.

The last meeting of this school session for the P. T. A. was held and Mr. C. E. Holly, in behalf of the school faculty, thanked the organization for their contribution of one hundred dollars for library books. Dr. G. D. Williams of the parish health unit, asked that plans be perfected for the operation of soup kitchens for the next school year. Dr. J. P. Davis spoke on "Health and Recreation," and Ashley W. Warlick, parish superintendent of education, spoke on "School Finance."

The Lake Providence high school graduation exercises will be held Monday, May 23, at 8 o'clock, in the school auditorium. A large class will be presented for graduation. The baccalaureate sermon will be delivered Sunday, May 22, at 11 o'clock, and Rev. C. A. Loveless, pastor of the local Baptist church, will deliver the sermon. The public is cordially invited to attend these exercises.

Mrs. Ashley W. Warlick will present her piano pupils in recital Friday evening, May 19, at 8 o'clock, in the school auditorium. An invitation

DETHRONED RULER FULFILLS BOYHOOD DREAM IN AFRICA

NAIROBI, East Africa, May 15.—(P)—Ex-King Ferdinand of Bulgaria, who lost his throne because of his country's defeat in the world war, is living in a little hotel room here.

"I have come here," he said, "as a scientist and traveler. I love the peace of Uganda and Kenya in this harassed world."

From childhood, he said, he had read books about African explorers and he had always wanted to tread their paths.

Although 73 years old, he is vigorous. He had just returned from a 3,000-mile motor trip, mostly over rough tracks through the bush, which occupied 17 days.

The ex-king is a keen botanist, ornithologist, and entomologist. His collection of butterflies and birds at Sofia is considered one of the best in the world.

This Texan Gets Goats In a Really Large Way

MASON, Texas, May 15.—(P)—When it comes to getting goats Maurice Cohen yields the palm to nobody. Each year Cohen, buyer for a San Antonio packing company, supervises the purchase of about 40,000 of the animals.

After the goats are slaughtered in San Antonio, most of the meat is shipped into the interior of Mexico for sale.

Specially equipped refrigerated trucks haul the meat, representing one of the largest annual goat "kills" known.

OUACHITA JUNIOR COLLEGE TO HOLD SUMMER SESSION

L. S. U. Courses to Be Given at Local Institution

The Louisiana State university, in cooperation with the Ouachita junior college, will conduct a summer session at Monroe in which many of the regular courses planned at the university, will be offered and for which the same or equivalent credit will be given. The plan agreed upon makes possible the realization of the desire of the two institutions to offer their facilities to teachers and other students in the Monroe section under conditions which will assure them full resident credit at the university for both junior college and senior college courses.

Courses in freshman, sophomore, junior and senior English and history will be offered. Courses will be given in biology, elementary and secondary education, economics, political science, library science, chemistry, psychology as well as other junior college and senior college courses should the demand be sufficient.

With the exception of one faculty member for secondary education all members of the summer school faculty are regular members of the junior college staff.

"All of Ouachita parish should feel very proud of the fact that they operate a college which is so well recognized by their state university to the extent that it is willing to establish a branch summer school at the junior college and give resident credit as though the work were done on the Louisiana State university campus," stated President C. C. Colvert, Monday.

The summer school will begin Tuesday, June 5, and will extend over a period of nine weeks ending August 5. Classes will meet only five days per week, thus giving Saturday and Sunday as holidays.

The courses offered in the summer session are designed to serve the needs of the following classes of students: 1. College students who have been attending Louisiana State university or are planning to enter next September and who find it inconvenient to go to Baton Rouge this summer. Such students may attend the Monroe unit of the Louisiana State university summer session at Ouachita junior college and receive resident credit at Louisiana State university.

2. College students who are working for diplomas or degrees and who wish to shorten the time of residence or to make up deficiencies.

3. Teachers in elementary and high schools of all types who wish further instruction in academic and professional work and especially those who desire to complete courses leading to a degree.

4. Educational workers who desire to raise their professional standing to college grade.

5. Mature people who wish to take special courses for stimulation and growth.

and was educated in private and public schools, and at the Edinburgh Academy of Music, the Conservatorium in Stuttgart, Germany, and the Royal Academy of Music in London.

About 35 years ago he launched his professional career as a concert pianist, winning critical acclaim in many European capitals. He had a fine baritone voice and in 1900 was awarded the Royal Academy of Music medal for operatic work and the Westmoreland prize.

In 1901 he became leading baritone of the Savoy Opera company and sang a wide range of roles in many parts of the world.

The combination of a great singer who could also act made his services greatly in demand by light opera and musical comedy producers, and for several years he was featured in London and on Broadway stages.

He claimed the honor of being the first talking picture actor, for 10 years ago the late Thomas Edison announced he had effected a talking picture and scenes were "shot" at East Orange, N. J., with Torrence singing the prison role in "Faust."

While appearing on Broadway Torrence made a tremendous "hit" in "The Night Boat" and then it was that motion picture producers visualized him as a screen personality.

He made his debut as the villainous mountaineer in "Tollable David," a role that gave the screen a new type of convincing "heavy."

So great was his success that he left the legitimate stage and definitely launched himself on a movie career. "Broken Chains" was his next picture, and then followed his notable role as the giant scout in "The Covered Wagon." Others of his early pictures were "The Hunchback of Notre Dame," "Ruggles of Red Gap," "North of 36," "Peter Pan," "The Blind Goddess," "The King of Kings," and "Mantrap."

In recent years he had played scores of diversified roles, sometimes sinister, sometimes comic, but always convincing.

His friends said he literally lived each part, from the first shot until the final close out. After studio hours, they related he went into seclusion so as not to lose the "feel" of his characterizations.

One of his hobbies was music, and in Hollywood it was considered an honor to be invited to a private recital at his home.

Myers, 806 North Fourth street, West Monroe. This letter was signed, "Your friend, O." It told of some one, referred to as "he," who had "been saying bad things about you," but did not carry any threats. Officers looked into this angle for the possibility of foul play, but said they failed to find anything that indicated the man had been attacked.

The body of Myers was found by Z. L. Cummings, J. M. Cummings and Fred Tolbrind, all living in ward nine, across the river from B. J. After looking over the object they had found was the body of a man, the men went to Bosco in a paddle boat and notified Sheriff Milton Coverdale, who received the call about 10:45 a. m.

Sheriff Coverdale and several men from Bosco reached the body about 2 p. m. after walking a considerable distance to reach the bank and spending some time in locating boats.

An examination of the body was made by the coroner after it had been brought to Monroe and placed in Peters Funeral home. The body had remained in the water so long that identification would have been impossible, except for the letter, a belt buckle which bore his initials and for the clothing.

After these articles had indicated the man's identity, the officers went to the Myers home in West Monroe and asked Mrs. Myers as to the whereabouts of her husband. She told them he had left on May 2, stating that he was going away to look for work. She had supposed that he was traveling around looking for work and had not thought as much of his absence as she would otherwise have done. Several days after the man's disappearance, however, a member of his family called the Monroe police station and asked if Myers were there as he had been arrested on several occasions for being drunk.

Myers was in the habit of walking across the railroad bridge at night and sometimes waited until late, in order to avoid attracting attention, when he had been drinking too much, it was stated. Officers were of the opinion that he accidentally fell off the bridge.

At the time the body was found the man had been missing 12 days. Although the place at which the body was found was only about 16 miles from Monroe by road, it was about 75 miles away by water. This was considered an unusually long distance for a body to float before being found.

The body was turned over to relatives about 3:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon. Funeral services were held at 5 p. m. in Peters' Funeral chapel, with interment following in Monroe cemetery, Rev. Ernest Holloway, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, officiated.

Surviving are the widow, two sons, Fred B. Myers and C. H. Myers, Jr., both of West Monroe; three brothers, J. E. Myers of West Monroe, Robert Myers of New Orleans, Grover Myers of Laurel, Miss., and three sisters, Mrs. Frank Adams, Mrs. M. C. McElhane and Mrs. Ruth Crow of Hattiesburg, Miss.

MISSISSIPPI AND TRIBUTARIES ARE AGAIN ON SPREE

predicted the rains had ended for the time being and danger of flood in the area was expected to pass by.

MISSISSIPPI RIVER IS AGAIN UPON RISE

MEMPHIS, Tenn., May 15.—(AP)—The Mississippi river is rising again and the weather bureau predicts it will reach flood stage here by May 21.

Flood stage on the Mississippi doesn't worry Memphis for the city is out of reach of the water on high bluffs but it means something else for lowland farmers to worry about. Tributaries of the big river in the Mississippi delta have been giving trouble all spring.

The weather bureau forecast said the Mississippi would go above flood stage by six or eight feet at several points on its southeastern Missouri and northeastern Arkansas banks.

STORMS TAKE LIVES AND CAUSE OVERFLOWS

FORT SMITH, Ark., May 15.—(AP)—Week-end storms took four lives in north Arkansas and sent rivers and streams to the west on a rampage that tied up rail and highway traffic and did heavy damage to crops and farm property.

A tornado, skirting near the Missouri border, virtually wiped out the little town of Franklin in Izard county.

Only a few scattered dwellings were left standing. The postoffice, church and business buildings were damaged heavily and Tom W. Simpson, bank cashier, and Pet Gaston, were killed. A dozen were injured.

The storm struck again farther east in Franklin county and Mrs. W. L. Crown and her son, Ambrose Crown, were killed in the Pocahontas section. Rain followed the windstorm.

Virtual cloudbursts that climaxed days of steady rain turned creeks and streams into raging torrents in western Arkansas. More than 6,000 acres of valuable farm land was estimated to be under water from a foot to two feet deep. Washouts had railroad traffic virtually paralyzed yesterday.

A St. Louis-San Francisco passenger train was marooned twelve hours in the Ozark mountains north of here. A washed out trestle near Alma stopped east and west travel on the Missouri Pacific line. Ten Boy Scouts were marooned near Rudy, Ark., but finally made their way to safety and the Arkansas river went out of its banks into the lowland farming country near here.

Clear creek in Crawford county was converted into a mile wide river and inundated hundreds of acres truck crops. A dance pavilion was wrecked by the waters near Alma and highways were overflowed.

CHICAGO GUNMAN IS FOUND SLAIN IN PARKED AUTO

It was the first gangster killing in Chicago in weeks, the last major killing being that of Ted Newberry, North Side gang leader, whose body was found on a lonely Indiana roadside.

Belcastro's last previous arrest was on election day last November when police found him carrying a five-gallon can of alcohol. He was never prosecuted for prohibition violation in connection with the offense.

Police records showed he had a long record of arrests, but few convictions. Terrorism and burglary were the most frequent charges.

Authorities said he was no relation to James Belcastro, reputed "bombing boss" for gangland.

Draft-Seabury-For-Mayor Move Under Way In N. Y.

NEW YORK, May 15.—(P)—A draft-Seabury-for-mayor drive is being organized along Monday over the wreckage of a "draft-Smith" movement defeated by Alfred E. Smith himself. Smith's statement that under "no compulsion or persuasion" would he accept a nomination for mayor in the fall election was regarded in political circles as strengthening the cause of those who seek to nominate Samuel Seabury, foe of Tammany.

Prominent fusionists, plus some Republican leaders, saw Smith's statement as clearing the air for Seabury's nomination. Archie O. Dawson, president of the Young Republican club, said: "The elimination of Governor Smith leaves Samuel Seabury as the logical fusion candidate."

FOUR HOUSES ON RIVERBANK HAVE BEEN RE-LOCATED

Project of Clearing For Right-of-Way Going Ahead

Four houses have already been removed by R. C. Saucier, contractor of Marksville, who has the contract for clearing the right-of-way for the federal flood control levee from Buckhorn bend northward to and including certain parts of the east bank of the Ouachita river within the city limits. The largest structure that has been moved to date is that of the Francis Scott house, formerly known as the Goff residence, located a short distance below the Fred Peters place on Columbia road.

The Scott house, a large two-story residence, has been moved across the fields to face on Jackson street. Other buildings are to be moved and the work is to be completed in 60 working days.

The next project to be let will be that of the second unit which will comprise still other house removals in the south side of Monroe.

Dick Pritchard is in general charge of the securing of rights-of-way for the Tensas Basin Levee board here.

Young Scientists Heard In New French Council

PARIS, May 15.—(P)—Young French scientists with new ideas are given a chance to make themselves heard with the creation of a national council of scientific research.

Special provision, to this end, is made in the organization plans. Under the ministry of national education the council will try to coordinate French work in all scientific fields.

The council will meet once a year. It will have eight sections, corresponding to the major divisions of science. Members will be designated by various learned bodies and by the minister of national education from a list submitted by the council.

PINT-A-WEEK LIMIT ON LIQUOR LIFTED

WASHINGTON, May 15.—(P)—The pint-a-week limit on medicinal liquor is off.

Beginning Monday, physicians may prescribe as much as they think their patients need and they don't have to tell the government what the ailments are that require a whisky treatment.

As a result, federal officials look for a sharp rise in medicinal liquor consumption. There is plenty on hand. Industrial alcohol bureau figures show 5,000,000 gallons of pre-prohibition whisky in bonded warehouses and about 6,000,000 gallons of green stock aging in distilleries. Consumption last year was about 1,000,000 gallons.

Under the regulations becoming effective Monday, virtually all the restrictions on physicians are lifted. Only when a physician prescribes for a patient for an extended period of months must he notify the government of the amount. But he will not be required to reveal the ailment except on specific requests of an enforcement agent who, in turn, must have direct authority from a superior.

THREE CONVICTS GET LIFE TERMS

RICHMOND, Tex., May 15.—(P)—Three convicts have been sentenced to life imprisonment in connection with the slaying of R. E. Ewing, convict building tender at Harlem prison farm, in a brawl last October. The three, who were serving terms for other offenses at the time Ewing was stabbed and beaten with a hammer, were Hulet Connolly, W. C. Gresham and Lawrence Stillman.

An instructed verdict of acquittal was returned in the case of Henry Gerber, convict who went on trial with the other three. Originally, eight convicts had been indicted for the slaying, which witnesses said occurred during a poker game in the prison barracks. One of the convicts, Manuel Lewis, later was killed at Retrieve prison farm. The other three were granted severances when the trial opened.

WE ARE SURE PROUD!

... Why Shouldn't We Be?

The greatest cooking expert ever to come to Monroe, has twice chosen the Sur-Wa to purchase her needs for her cooking demonstration.

This proves two things for which we are proud. First, she chose the Sur-Wa because she could get anything she needed and knew it would be the best.

Second, she chose Sur-Wa because she could put on the school at a real low cost. That's enough, isn't it?

Now, if you are not trading with Sur-Wa, Monroe's leading food stores, why don't you get right? Save and be sure that you get the best of merchandise obtainable.

Giants and Indians Traveling at Fast Clip in Majors

NEW YORK, BUCS TIED FOR LEAD IN OLDER LOOP

Cleveland Forges Ahead
As Champion Yanks
Split Twin Bill

By Hugh S. Fullerton, Jr.
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

One month of campaigning in the major leagues has produced opposition from unexpected sources for the teams selected to head the pennant races. The favorites were the New York Yankees and Pittsburgh Pirates, but the New York Giants and Cleveland Indians are lead in front of the Yanks.

The Giants "doped" as a second division club, smashed their way into a tie with Pittsburgh in an impressive fashion just about the time the boys were ready to decide the Bucs might make a runaway race of it. After losing the first game of the series to the Pirates, they won three in a row, winding up Sunday with a smart 5 to 1 triumph.

Eloy "Bud" Parmelee, freshman right-hander, led Pittsburgh down with six hits in a duel with Walter Hoyt that finally was decided in the eighth inning when a costly error by Freddy Lindstrom let three runs score.

Cleveland gained a lead of a full game by beating the Philadelphia Athletics twice while the world's champions were splitting a bargain bill with the seventh-place St. Louis Browns. Oral Hildebrand allowed the A's only four hits to win the first game, 3-0, riling up his fifth victory and his third shutout. Clint Brown gave only six to gain a 5-3 decision.

Another "dark horse" of a very sombre hue, the Cincinnati Reds, climbed into third place in the National with a double victory over the Chicago Cubs, 2 to 3 and 1 to 0. Evers, leading the famous "jinx" over the Cubs to its utmost, they made nine hits good for the six runs behind the brilliant hurling of Red Lucas and St. Johnson.

The St. Louis Cardinals, who could get no better than an even break with Boston, slipped a few points into fourth. They won the opener 4-0 on Tex Carleton's four-hit flinging but lost the second 8-4 when the Braves blasted Dizzy Dean from the hill with seven runs in the fourth.

Brooklyn won the other National League contest in a surprising style, turning back the Phillies 8 to 6, when Hack Wilson hit a pinch homer with the bases full in the ninth inning.

An ex-Yankee cost the New York club its chance to hold the American League lead, "Statheloff" Ed Wells subdued his old mates to win the first game for St. Louis, 5-1. The champions came back strongly with an early rush that netted a 9 to 5 victory, mostly because Tony Lazzeri hit his sixth homer of the season with two aboard in the third inning.

Washington's Senators and the Chicago White Sox, scrapping for third place, split a wild and woolly doubleheader that produced 51 hits, good for a total of 74 bases. The Sox won the opener 10-8 after rolling up a nine-run lead in the first three innings, then the Senators reversed the order, getting seven runs in two frames and finishing with an 11-9 edge.

The Boston Red Sox couldn't stand prosperity after rallying for five runs in the ninth inning to beat Detroit 6 to 1 and made six errors, four of which figured in the scoring, to give the Tigers the second game, 3 to 2.

DIXIE GAMES ARE OUTSIDE OF TEXAS

Lone Star Clubs Migrate to Three States For Tilts Monday

(By United Press)

All Dixie league games Monday were scheduled outside of Texas. Migration of the four Texas clubs to three states followed a Sunday which saw three doubleheaders and a single game.

Tyler, which took both ends of a twin bill at Henderson, 2 to 1, and 5 to 1, was in Shreveport Monday while the Henderson club was matched at Jackson.

Jackson was forced into the tenth inning Sunday to win its first game at El Dorado 3 to 2, then came back to take the nightcap, 5 to 1.

Waco moved into El Dorado Monday after a 2 to 5 loss at Longview. The Longview governors were in Baton Rouge.

Darkness ended the last of the Shreveport-Baton Rouge doubleheader at Baton Rouge Sunday. The score was 8 to 8 at the end of the fifth. The first game was won by Baton Rouge, 9 to 8.

FIRST SCOT WOMAN PROFESSOR

The honor of being the first woman professor in Scotland has just come to Miss Cecilia J. MacTaggart, of Glasgow, who has been appointed to the Chair of Biology in the Anderson College of Medicine, in Glasgow. Miss MacTaggart is a distinguished graduate of Glasgow University, where she recently took M. A. and B. S. degrees with first class honors in Zoology. She is in her early twenties, has beautiful chestnut hair, and is definitely not absent-minded like many male "profes."

SPORTS through Eggen's EYES

By Robert Edgren

The Baer-Schmeling and Sharkey-Carnera fights next month ought to provide more real heavyweight action than the fans have seen in any one season since 1927, when Jack Dempsey knocked out Sharkey and lost to Tunney at Chicago two months later.

The Chicago "Battle of the Century" was the last heavyweight title bout with enough excitement to keep the customers awake. The heavyweight class, usually considered the big money card in boxing, has been about as thrilling as an undertaker's convention since that time. Its history could be traced with the Egyptian "Book of the Dead."

First there was Tunney-Heeneey the following year. Heeneey handpicked by Gene as a nice easy opponent to get half a million dollars with (the amount Tex Rickard had guaranteed Gene for his next fight), before retiring undefeated. Poor Tom should have been fighting some other lumbering heavy in the preliminaries. The customers knew it and stayed away in such large numbers that Tex lost $250,000 on his promotion. As a heavyweight championship fight that was a painful experience for the spectators. But what followed was almost worse.

Tunney retired, somebody decided upon making Jack Sharkey champion. After plenty of ballyhoo Sharkey and Stripling met at Miami in a "heavyweight" elimination. Both waved their hands threateningly. They glared fiercely at each other. They faced for several terrific wallows. These, however, produced no knockouts because the warriors were cautiously staying out of range of each other, where they could neither land nor be landed on. Sharkey got the decision. Stripling was "eliminated," but the fight was so poor there was no use in trying to crown Sharkey at the moment. There had to be some better excuse.

Schmeling Ships Scott
Max Schmeling, a husky young German, showed a trace of color when he knocked out Johnny Risko and defeated Paulino. It was hardly more than a trace, at that, for the Paulino fight was awful except in the last four rounds. But Schmeling was "grabbed" for a Sharkey fight and preparations made to ballyhoo it as a championship. Unfortunately Max had been signed up to fight Phil Sargeant, an English heavyweight. The commission could do nothing but order him to go through with the Scott contract to clear decks for a Sharkey match. Little was known about Scott but he was reputed to have a clever left hand. Max immediately skipped over to Germany, and didn't come.

So Sharkey took Scott on at Miami. Florida is a lemon growing country and didn't need to import any more lemons. They should have been wise when New York promoters shipped the Sharkey-Scott bout down there, being afraid to try it on New York. It was a sadder affair than even the Sharkey-Stripling duck-and-jump contest of the year before. Sharkey smacked Scott roughly on the chin and various other places and Scott went down, curled up like a pretzel and shrieked that he had been fouled. The referee failed to fall for it and gave the fight. The Sharkey-Carnera fight promises plenty of action too. Sharkey beat Carnera two years ago. He dropped Scott, but couldn't keep him down. He took a championship from him when Schmeling ducked out of an agreement to fight Primo.

(Copyright, 1933, by Robert Edgren)

Sharkey the decision. The fight was so punk that the New York authorities had no excuse for recognizing Sharkey as champ just then. So Schmeling was forgiven for refusing to take orders, and brought back to be knocked out by Sharkey and give the commission some plausible reason for putting the big crown on Jack's noble brow. Of course there was no suspicion that Sharkey might have a brainstorm again and spoil the program.

The first Sharkey-Schmeling fight, in which Sharkey socked Schmeling without result for three rounds, and lost on a foul in the fourth, was just another piece of limburger.

Next year, when Schmeling refused to take Sharkey on for a fourth round outside New York state, to Cleveland, to fight Stripling, the result was only a little more interesting. Stripling shot everything he had in ten rounds, while Max boxed very cautiously and showed no effect when Stripling did get a punch through his guard. From the tenth on it was just a question of whether Schmeling could stop a game but very groggy and disoriented opponent—which Max did in the fifteenth.

Schmeling's Judgment Poor
And the Sharkey-Schmeling fight of last year was another to add to the list. Both were over-cautious. Both wanted to win on a decision. Neither would risk letting a real punch go. This was a sap performance on the part of Schmeling, supposed to be a cage young man, because he was tough enough to fight a much harder kid. It may have been smart play on the part of Sharkey, for he won and took the title. The fight itself was no great boost for championship boxing.

Conditions may make a difference this year. First, Schmeling has no set-up in the Baer fight. He's meeting a bigger man who is just as tough in taking punches as himself, just as tireless and a much heavier hitter. He has to lick Baer or give up all hope of being champion again, and the German loved that title! It was hot stuff in Germany. He'll have to attack to lick Baer, and anyone who carries a fight to Baer is very likely to wake up five minutes or five hours later.

Primo and his seconds: "What round did I knock him out in?" If Schmeling does outfight Baer—if he can outsmart a man twice as good in everything but brains, it will be worth seeing. I saw Jack Kearns two or three nights ago and asked his opinion of this fight.

Kearns Likes Baer
"From the ears down," said Kearns, "Baer is one of the greatest prospects for a champion I ever saw. He has everything a champion needs. He's well built, strong, tough, quick, and he can take it or give it. He has only one fault. He may feel sulky when he gets in that ring, and sulky alone without anything else, he is just funny and takes to clowning to amuse the spectators. You never can tell what he'll do. Schaaf was leading at Chicago until Baer knocked him out in the ninth, and Baer hit Schaaf in the tenth and put him out for five hours. I like this punch."

"He seems to have cut out clowning," I said. "And besides, he can't be so enough not to know where he'd rank if he stopped Schmeling."

Kearns looked thoughtful, and said nothing. His no secret, he made several efforts to get up or two ago to "grab" Baer. And the man who campaigned Dempsey until the unwilling Willard was forced to give him a title fight might easily promote a big tough egg like Baer into a lot of money.

The Sharkey-Carnera fight promises plenty of action too. Sharkey beat Carnera two years ago. He dropped Scott, but couldn't keep him down. He took a championship from him when Schmeling ducked out of an agreement to fight Primo.

MEMPHIS RETAINS LEAD IN LEAGUE

Chickasaws Beat Off Pelicans to Hold First Place In Loop

ATLANTA, Ga., May 15.—(P)—Memphis, temporarily at least, has finally managed to beat off New Orleans' challenge for the leadership of the Southern Association.

A string of successive victories placed the Chickasaws in position to shove the Pelicans down Sunday but Memphis won both games of their doubleheader and kept New Orleans in second place.

The Chicks took the first game 4 to 1 with the aid of a home run by Hutcherson. The second, a scheduled seven-inning clash, went ten innings before Memphis finally won 4 to 3.

Chattanooga stepped out Sunday and won a doubleheader from Nashville. The Lookouts took the first match 7 to 6 in eleven innings and the second 16 to 6 in a game cut short by darkness.

Little Rock and Knoxville divided their double clash. Knoxville won the first 2 to 1 as Rabb held the Travelers to three hits. Little Rock took the second 11 to 6, pounding three pitchers for fourteen hits, including home runs by Wright and Goebel.

The Atlanta Crackers divided a twin bill with Birmingham. The first game was a slugfest and went to Birmingham 14 to 12. Max Butcher, young right-hander, pitched Atlanta to a 2 to 0 victory in the second.

By Henry McElmore
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

ATLANTA CITY, N. J., May 15.—Jack Dempsey, the boy promoter, led a junket to this place hard by the sea Sunday to allow the boxing critics an opportunity to watch Max Baer in training. After all the bother and expense Dempsey went to the chartered private railroad car in which Alfred Smith stumped the country in 1928) it seems a shame to report Baer looked only ordinary.

In fact, Baer, or the Livermore clouter as his mother calls him, looked just like he did when he fought King Levinsky in New York a year ago February. And you know how he was then. The greatest fighter in the world from the neck down. And the worst from that point up. His training Sunday consisted of seven rounds and during those seven he committed all seven of boxing's deadly sins. He telegraphed his punches. He led with his right. He was hit hard and often with all sorts of punches, especially hooks and uppercuts. He pawed. He lunged. And he clowned.

And yet when the big Californian finished and announced all and sundry he would stop Max Schmeling at the Yankee Stadium on the evening of June 8, you didn't laugh. For with all his awkwardness, Baer, 216 pounds of whalebone and whipcord, is so tough. You couldn't imagine any man staying in there with him over the championship distance of 15 rounds.

There can be no doubt that Baer is one of those rare tough "uns who delights when the going gets toughest. He has proved that in half a dozen fights, and he proved it again Sunday. It was immediately after being clipped that he was most impressive.

Now Schmeling is no sparring partner, but well, you right now that on June 8, when the two Maxes stand toe-to-toe and start swinging it will be the German, not the Californian, who will break ground. Schmeling may lick Baer, but he'll never do it if he's foolish enough to try and swap punches with him.

Two former world champions were in the crowd that watched Baer work Sunday. One of the ex-champions was Tommy Loughran, the other Pete Latzo.

Loughran, who has fought Baer, was particularly gold on the Californian.

"He looked terrible," Tommy said, "mainly because he was pressing—trying too hard. But everybody is trying to do one off day. I've been down here several days now and have seen him in a couple of workouts that convinced me he has enough to make it mean for anybody, anytime."

Ole Miss and Miss. State Strong in Field Events

By Dillon Graham
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., May 15.—(P)—Mississippi and Mississippi State will make their strongest bid for points in the Southeastern conference track meet here Saturday in the field events, but Georgia, Louisiana State and Auburn probably will sweep all first places.

The Mississippi schools have good representatives in all the field events and may pick up points in all seven of them. Vanderbilt, Tennessee, Tulane and Alabama are others counted as point winners.

Bachelor of Georgia, one of the south's best all round athletes, will be a strong competitor in the discus, shot put, javelin and broad jump and may win the last two.

He has broad jumped 22 feet 8 inches. Rattle of L. S. U. has leaped 31-1-2 inches farther than 23 feet. No other jumper has done better than 23 feet.

Lipe of Alabama has jumped 22 feet 6 inches. Ponders of Tennessee has done 22 feet 1-1-2 inches. Zimmerman of Tulane leaps around 22 feet consistently. Shoemaker of Mississippi and McMichael of Georgia Tech have approached 22 feet.

Jack Torrance, who officials said bettered the world record a few days ago, should win the shot put, with Bachelor second. Torrance threw the iron ball 52 feet, 8-1-4 inches. Bachelor's best this year was 46 feet 11 inches.

UPWARD TREND OF BUSINESS SHOWN ON M. P. RAILROAD

Little Rock-Louisiana Division Has Increase of Shipments

That business is on the upward trend, at least so far as it concerns freight handled on the Little Rock-Louisiana division of the Missouri Pacific railroad, is well demonstrated by a comparative report for the first 10 days of May, 1933, when compared with a similar period in 1932, states S. A. Moss, local agent for the road.

For 1932, first 10 days of May, train miles showed a total of 34,293, while for the first 10 days of May, 1933, the figures were 38,426. The increase was 4,133 or a gain of 12 per cent.

Gross ton miles for the same period of time in 1932 were 51,938,783, while in 1933, the first 10 days of May showed figures of 53,422,692, which is an increase of 6,484,109 or a gain of 12 1/2 per cent.

Local loading and receipts from connections, for the first 10 days of May in 1932 are given as 2,459 cars, while for the first 10 days of May, 1933, the number was 2,820, a gain of 361, which is an increase of 15 1/2 per cent.

Mr. Moss states that these figures are such as to encourage and to give, in concrete form, basis for the belief that business is coming back again and that normal conditions will soon result.

TIBETAN SYMBOLS THEME OF REPORT BY ITALIAN SAVANT

ROME, May 15.—(P)—Unaccustomed lips are experimenting with "mc'od rten" and "t'za t'za" as a result of the publication of Giuseppe Tucci's book on Tibetan religious symbols.

A member of the Royal Academy, Tucci spent months studying the religious manifestations of the people of Tibet. He reports they are intensely devout and mystical in their religious concepts.

The "mc'od rten," pronounced "chee-or-ten," Tucci says, is a sort of combined tomb and receptacle for holy relics. The "t'za t'za" are small clay vases, usually heavily decorated with figures of divinities.

The "t'za t'za" may contain a pinch of the ashes of a revered priest or parent, a holy script or some other saintly relic.

Tucci says that orations, prayers and fervent incantations accompany the making of these receptacles. Once made and the relic sealed within, the "t'za t'za" are placed in the "mc'od rten" with solemn ceremony.

Leader of Dominicans Sanctions Pilgrim Trip

NEW YORK, May 15.—(P)—Approval of the first of the holy year pilgrimages to Rome planned by the Third Order of St. Dominic-Rosary Mission Society in the United States, a lay group, has been received from the master-general of the Dominican fathers, the Most Rev. Martin S. Gilman.

Several hundred Catholics are expected to form the group, which will sail from here on July 5. Besides making the prescribed visits to the Roman basilicas and being received by Pope Pius XI, the pilgrims will journey to Lourdes and the cities where St. Dominic, founder of the order, established branches, especially Bologna, his burial place.

VIRGINIA ROOF IS PLACE OF BEAUTY

"The most delightful spot in Monroe," is the slogan, and aptly chosen, for the Virginia Hotel Roof garden, which is to open on Wednesday, May 17.

For weeks, Mrs. J. L. Keenan, wife of the manager of the hotel, has been giving untiring efforts in the transformation of this roof into a place of beauty. The large open room was enclosed with huge windows so that the elements can at no time mar the pleasure of an evening or afternoon on the roof. Decorations have been carried out under the personal direction of Mrs. Keenan with exquisite taste.

Flower boxes are ranged along the outlines of the room with gay-colored blooms giving a pleasing and artistic effect. Tables at vantage points are placed both inside and outside on the roof where innumerable colored electric light globes throw a softly-subdued light by night.

A veritable flower garden is to be seen in the open roof space at the south and west ends of the building, far above the city, and commanding superb views in all directions.

But the pride of the entire roof is the rock garden of most unique style with a dashing fountain watering the wide circle of flowers.

Music will be furnished for the opening, Wednesday night, by Burgess Pool's Imperial band and admission is to be by reservation only.

Lunches, salads, sandwiches, beverages, are to be obtained at all times, this feature being in charge of Nat Hurdle, caterer.

STEPLADDER CAUSES SUIT

Claiming that the steps of a stepladder which they bought from the South Suburban Cooperative Society were dangerous and defective, Mr. and Mrs. Edith Somers, of London, sued the company for damages. Mrs. Somers said that one of the steps gave way under her, causing injuries. When the society showed that both husband and wife were on the step at the same time, and that each weighed 225 pounds, the judge dismissed the case.

TARZAN THE UNTAMED

"This threat of war means we must return home," said Lady Cecil; "the journey to Nepal is no longer safe." Roger only laughed at her fears. Finally, unwillingly she yielded, for she would not allow Pat to go unchaperoned.

Roger promised their visit with the maharajah's son would be brief. But when the last long miles into the Mogul's state had to be made by zebu-drawn carts, Caroline Cecil regretted leaving Delhi. Even she revived, however, as Prince Ahmed warmly welcomed them.

The splendor of the palace, its gorgeous gardens, and the native pomp were most impressive. That evening, Nautch dancers performed in their honor. Lady Cecil, wearied, kept to her room. Pat and Roger were presented to his august Highness.

Instinctively the girl disliked the suave politeness of the maharajah. Nor did the gleam in his wicked black eyes as he looked upon the girl's charms, escape her. Afterwards, she said to Roger: "That man is our enemy!"

Markets--Financial

Cotton

New Orleans

NEW ORLEANS, May 15.—(P)—The cotton market started weak Monday, showing a sharp opening decline due to poor cables, rain in Texas where needed and disquieting European political advices, but most of the early loss was later recovered on trade buying, rather liberal purchases by commission houses and short covering.

The early drop carried July down to 8.48, October to 8.74 and December to 8.92, or 28 to 31 points under Saturday's close.

The subsequent rally advanced July to 8.87, October to 8.92 and December to 9.07, or 17 to 19 points up from the lows to levels 9 to 14 points under Saturday's close.

At mid-session the market was steady and only one to two points under the highs and during the early afternoon the market again improved, July advancing to 8.70, October to 8.94 and December to 9.10, or 6 to 11 points under Saturday's close.

Exports for the day totaled 23,552 bales.

The market turned somewhat easier again in the late trading mainly owing to stocks and selling by recent buyers. Prices eased off 8 points from the top and closed steady, showing net declines of 13 to 20 points.

Cotton futures closed steady at net declines of 13 to 20 points.

New York

NEW YORK, May 15.—(P)—A sharp opening decline in cotton under heavy general realizing Monday was followed by partial rallies on covering combined with continued trade and a renewal of commission house buying. July contracts after selling off to 8.44 rallied to 8.74 or within 10 points of Saturday's close. The mid-afternoon market was quiet but steady at net declines of about 10 to 12 points.

Cotton futures closed steady 10-20 lower.

New York Stocks

NEW YORK, May 15.—(P)—Stocks generally displayed lagging tendencies Monday, along with speculative bonds and the grain market. Some of the specialties, notably the so-called "wet" equities, developed a lively demand at one time, but most of the leaders did little or nothing. The close was irregularly lower. Transfers approximated 3,000,000 shares.

By Claude A. Jagger

NEW YORK, May 15.—(P)—Financial markets began the new week rather feebly Monday, but improved as trading progressed.

Early selling in stocks and some of the staples was attributed in part to international tension resulting from the German attitude on armament, but it soon dwindled. Stocks lost fractions to a point pretty generally, but recovered here and there during the middle of the day. Cotton broke $1.50 to $2 a bale, then came back about half way. Wheat lost about a cent.

In stocks, the alcohol issues were given another whirl, as it was the first day of the more liberal prescription regulations. National Distillers jumped 5 points. Motors held up well, with Nash and Chrysler getting up fractions. Some of the food stocks, notably packing issues, managed to work a little higher. Sears Roebuck advanced more than a point. U. S. Steel was off only a fraction at the close.

Chemicals were held fairly steady. Allied Chemical recovered after sagging 1 1/4. American Can and Union Carbide lost about 1.

Wall Street awaited with keen interest for Chancellor Hitler's message to the special session of the reichstag on disarmament on Wednesday, and financial quarters were hopeful that a means would be found to save the disarmament conference, inasmuch as the hopes for the London economic conference have been regarded as hanging on progress at Geneva.

With the approach of summer, the time for the usual seasonal lull in business, the week's business news and statistics were awaited with intense interest. Optimistic quarters express the hope that the inflationary fillip which business has received has been sufficient to keep the forward movement in progress. While the recession in freight carloadings, as reported Saturday, was a little larger than some quarters had estimated, it was pointed out that they would still reduce a little further in this week's report, and actually cross the level of a year previously, in view of the sharp decline a year ago.

TEAR GAS IS SENT INTO STRIKE AREA

Wisconsin Farmers Stage Battle In Stopping Milk Trucks

MILWAUKEE, Wis., May 15.—(P)—Tear gas bombs were flown into Waukesha county by airplane to reinforce deputy sheriffs who were forced to use their old supply to break up a fight of 400 farmers in the Wisconsin milk strike.

The outbreak occurred Sunday just inside the Walworth county line, about 25 miles southwest of Milwaukee after the farmers had stopped six trucks bound for Chicago and dumped 30,000 pounds of milk.

Only 35 deputies were on duty at the time and to disperse the battling crowd they said they had to resort to tear gas. Later in the day a force of Walworth county deputies arrived and escorted trucks over highways deserted, by then, of pickets. Otto Marquette, chairman of the East Troy milk pool, was knocked unconscious. Winnebago, Sheboygan, Milwaukee, Racine and Kenosha county deputies also were posted for action Monday as city health commissioners sent trucks designated with Red Crosses into the country to get milk for children and the sick.

Officials said there was no assurance that picketing farmers, intent on dumping all milk which moves on the highways, would respect the trucks which the commissioners had singled out for immunity.

Leaders of the Wisconsin cooperative milk pool agreed to suggestions that milk be allowed to go through for children and the sick, but insisted that it be handled through their organization. Governor A. G. Schmedeman refused to allow health commissioners to deal with the pool, or any other group of farmers.

MILLION DOLLAR CACHE ENTERS IN MURDER MYSTERY

question has an important bearing on the disposition of Ridley's fortune, for the bewhiskered, 88-year-old millionaire, left a will bequeathing $200,000 to Weinstein, provided he outlived Ridley.

Weinstein's newly discovered wife, about whose existence even his relatives were ignorant, is expected to decide soon whether she will start a legal fight to claim the money.

Police expressed the opinion that a liquor cutting plant found underground near the Ridley office played no part in the mystery. They said they believed Ridley was ignorant of its existence.

Ridley, a scion of a pioneer New York department store owner, lived like a comparatively poor man, despite his millions. Every day he commuted from his New Jersey lodging place to the dank office where his business affairs centered.

EMPLOYMENT TAX TO BE DISCUSSED

plete except for the revenue section, designed to raise $220,000,000 a year for sinking fund and interest requirement. Representative Byrns said Monday the meeting Monday afternoon was for the purpose of deciding definitely upon whether the sale levy would be adopted.

"Already I have received several protests from members against the sales tax," Byrns told reporters. "It is not a popular tax. Maybe the protesters will be asked to suggest a more popular tax."

Besides calling for an outlay of $3,300,000,000 through an eighteen-year bond issue to finance federal, state and municipal public construction, the draft of the measure provides $400,000,000 for highways, about $50,000,000 for naval construction, and an indefinite amount for rivers and harbors improvement.

It permits trade agreements between trade associations and with labor organizations subject to the approval of the government. In the event, certain industries can not make agreements on production, the president is empowered to initiate investigations to determine what may be done.

A director of public works and industry is to administer the law. He would have power to approve agreements between trade associations, thereby suspending the anti-trust laws, in so far as the agreements go.

son committee, and who accepted the resignations of two of their leaders who were avowedly communistic, changed the name of their organization to the veterans national committee, but the Thomas group remained unopposed.

The encampment had as guests Monday all but a few of the three score men who held out even after the Thomas group agreed to accept the Fort Hunt hospitality which is provided by the government.

Joseph Salzman of Brooklyn, N. Y., who led a dozen men in an unsuccessful effort to march to the White House Sunday, lost all but a few of his followers to the camp's food and shelter.

With flags flying, the dozen marchers advanced as far as Pennsylvania avenue before finding themselves suddenly surrounded by bluecoats.

"We want to see President Roosevelt," said Salzman. "I know him when he was governor. I stood beside him once when he was making a campaign speech."

The group was placed under technical arrest, but soon liberated. The president was on a cruise down the Potomac river at the time, and the White House was virtually deserted.

ABDUCTED CHILD TELLS OF KIDNAP

Margaret McMath Appears Before Grand Jury at Barnstable

BARNSTABLE, Mass., May 15.—(P)—Margaret McMath, 10-year-old Harwichport girl, whose kidnaping two weeks ago stirred nation-wide interest, took an hour and three minutes to tell her story to a special session of the Barnstable county grand jury Monday.

The little girl was accompanied into the grand jury room by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Neil C. McMath, who paid $50,000 for her safe return, and by William Lee and Harold Sawyer, business associates of her father. She was the first witness before the jurors, having been called first so that she might lose as little time as possible from attendance at the school from which she was spirited away by a hoaxed message on May 2.

The McMaths, with Lee and Sawyer, were to testify later. Judge Edward F. Haniffy of Fall River, instructed the jurors in their duties as soon as they convened.

The state charges Peggy's return was made contingent upon payment of a $50,000 ransom, and that Kenneth Buck, 28-year-old former chauffeur, was the man who abducted the girl and took the money. The state also charges that Kenneth's 40-year-old brother, Cyril, proprietor of a garage, had a hand in the extortion although it is admitted he refused an additional $10,000 in ransom money.

Both of the Bucks are in jail here in default of $100,000 bail. Police say Kenneth has signed a full confession exonerating his brother.

TRIAL OF CANNON NOW SEEMS SURE

fred E. Smith during the 1928 election. Among the contributions received by Bishop Cannon in his attempt to prevent Smith's election was approximately $50,000 from E. C. Jameson, wealthy New Yorker.

The government charged that Cannon violated the federal election laws by failing to report to the clerk of the house the disposition of the full amount.

Cannon claimed that he was not required to report all of it and then after the indictment was returned fought it on technical grounds.

Bishop Cannon in investigations by senate committees, had refused to answer questions concerning the contributions received by him in 1928 and once he dramatically walked out of a committee room.

Miss Burroughs also refused to answer questions about the 1928 campaign. Monday's decision was handed down by Chief Justice Martin of the court of appeals. Justice Van Orsdel dissented.

The time for the trial of Bishop Cannon and Miss Burroughs, whose home is in Richmond, Va., has not been fixed.

TODAY'S AMUSEMENTS

AT THE PARAMOUNT.—The ill-fated Russian family, Rasputin the Mad Monk, those machinations that wrecked the empire, and the pomp and panoply of the most colorful royal court in the world, all come to life under the magic spell of John, Ethel and Lionel Barrymore in "Rasputin and the Empress," Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's spectacle of the fall of the Romanoffs, playing at the Paramount for the last time Monday.

Here is modern history—the inside of the plots, counterplots, intrigues and orgies in the shadow of a tottering throne. Only slightly fictionalized, it breathes veritable life.

John Barrymore as the romantic Prince Chygodoff, victim of Rasputin's plotting and later his nemesis; Ethel Barrymore as the tragic zarina, blaming herself for the illness of the little son whom she loves more than life; Lionel as the wily Rasputin, ruling an empire through his superstitious monarchs—all fairly live their remarkable roles.

The czar is reincarnated in the perfect makeup and acting of Ralph Morgan. The little czarévitch lives again in Tad Alexander, and such historic personages are brought to life as the beautiful Princess Natasha, played by the English stage star, Diana Wynyard, the Grand Duke Igor (C. Henry Gordon), and the celebrated court physician who tried in vain to cure the czarévitch of his curous ailment, played by Edward Arnold. All these characters step from the pages of a few years ago to live anew.

"Rasputin and the Empress" is the most spectacular picture since the advent of the talkies. Great ceremonies in the winter palace in St. Petersburg with gorgeously garbed throngs, and the impressive celebration at the Kremlin with costumes and settings absolutely true to the originals, form a striking background for the tense drama of the story. Richard Boleslavsky directed, with deft skill and a sure knowledge.

AT THE CAPITOL.—If you have ever stood in the center of a barred arena, completely surrounded by 48 snarling, roaring lions and tigers, you can form some idea of the thrills which await you in "The Big Cage," the Universal circus drama showing for the last time Monday at the Capitol theater.

Since only one man in entire history of zoology has ever performed such a feat, the only method of appreciating this remarkable performance lies in seeing this hair-raising motion picture. Clyde Beatty, the greatest of wild animal trainers, plays the featured role in "The Big Cage," and duplicates the circus "act" which has made him the premier attraction of the "big tops." The magic of the camera takes the spectator into the very midst of the raging animals, and results in thrilling scenes such as have never before been seen on the screen. It is undoubtedly a fact that no other picture ever made has been so fraught with actual danger to its leading character, nor presented these dangers with more telling effect.

The picture is filled with exciting, dangerous scenes, and its climax, which takes place in a crowded circus during a performance, brings thrills which have probably never been equaled on the screen. At the height of a terrific thunderstorm several lions and tigers escape from the arena in which Beatty is putting them through their paces, and there ensue scenes of the utmost confusion.

Descendants of the Church family, pioneers in the manufacture of clay pipes in England, have what is reported to be the world's largest collection of smoking pipes.
